Although the service was held at 11 o'clock the church was well filled. U.S. Senate Votes For Duty-free Shingles

Washington, Nov. 13.—Rejection of shingles on the free list was voted to-day by the Senate by forty-nine against twenty-nine.

The Senate in so acting sustained the recommendation of its Finance committee. The House had proposed a 25 per cent duty.

A vigorous contest was waged on the Senate floor by members from the Pacific Northwest to obtain a duty on the product. They contended it was necessary to meet import competition, principally from Canada. It was further argued it would regulate the lumber industry so it would assist conservation of forests by permitting the working out of a reforestation programme.

Legation To Have New Head

William Phillips Resigns Ottawa Post to Return to the United States

Washington, Nov. 13.—William Phillips has resigned as United States Minister to Canada, a post he has held since February, 1927, when the Legation was established.

Mr. Phillips, who is a career man and one of the leading United States diplomats, plans to quit the diplomatic service probably late next month and settle with his family in New England.

President Hoover accepted the resignation with great reluctance and sought to induce Mr. Phillips to remain in the public service. However, the Minister to Canada explained he desired to leave office after many years of service in order to rear his family in the United States.

The appointment of Mr. Phillips in 1927 was made at the same time as Hon. Vincent Massey was named first Canadian Minister to the United States.

Keen appreciation of the excellent work done by William Phillips as first United States Minister to Canada was expressed by Premier King when the official announcement of Mr. Phillips' retirement was conveyed to him at the conclusion of the service in memory of the late Hon. James A. Robb in the First United Church in Victoria this forenoon. Mr. King said he had known Mr. Phillips had been contemplating that step.

MRS. SUBKOFF DIES AT BONN

Bonn, Prussia, Nov. 13.—Frau Alexander Subkoff, sixty-three, who was Princess Victoria of Prussia, sister of the former Kaiser and grandchild of the British Queen Victoria, died to-day at St. Francis Hospital here, ending one of the strangest romances written into the records of European royalty.

Death came while she slept at 7:30 a.m. and followed a brief illness which began last week shortly after her husband, Alexander Subkoff, Russian adventurer, who was thirty-four years her junior, had been served with divorce papers on her behalf.

Frau Subkoff, when she married last in 1927, renounced her rights as a princess and accepted estrangement from her family. Members here to-day at her death were "Baby" Sister Marguerite, Princess Von Hess, her husband, Prince Frederick Charles, and their two sons, Christopher and Richard.

Although her fatal illness came upon her only a few days ago, the last months of her life were far from happy and were spent in most modest quarters here in loneliness, poverty and disillusionment.

By her first marriage she was Princess of Schaumburg Lippe, wife of Prince Adolph of that house. He died in 1916 and for years she lived side by side with other members of the Hohenzollern and Schaumburg-Lippe families.

STEPS TO PEACE ARE REVIEWED

Hon. J. L. Ralston Tells Canadian Club of Progress Towards International Accord

Ten Years Since Great War Sees Support For Peace Widespread

Speaking on "Preventive Defence" at a well-attended luncheon of the Victoria Canadian Club held at the Empress Hotel this afternoon, Col. the Hon. James L. Ralston, P.C., K.C., C.M.G., D.S.O., D.C.L., Federal Minister of National Defence, discussed the consistent approach in recent years by the nations of the world towards greater international amity.

While the modern peace movement commenced in 1919 the world had been struggling towards that ideal for centuries, said Col. Ralston.

The Kellogg-Briand pact to renounce war as an instrument of national policy was, in the speaker's view, a direct outcome of the League of Nations pact.

Col. Ralston reviewed the League Covenant and the dramatic Washington Conference which resulted in the scrapping of 840,000 tons of war vessels by the United States and the destruction of 480,000 tons by Great Britain, in addition to the 1,350,000 tons already scrapped between the termination of the Great War and the holding of the Washington sessions.

PLANE IS DESIGNED TO CARRY 600 ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—New York to London in six hours in a plane accommodating 500 passengers and a crew of 100 is a possibility of the near future, according to Harry R. Westcott, president of Westcott & Mages, engineers, of New Haven, who to-day said his firm had been asked to bid on structural work on the plane.

The super-plane, Westcott said, might be built in New York at a cost of $3,000,000. His firm would submit bids within thirty days.

The gigantic air craft, Westcott said, would have twelve 1,000-horsepower motors and would be designed to overcome wind resistance at an extremely high altitude.

Beyond the fact that German engineers were advising a United States concern on motive power, Westcott would give no further information.

Advocating retention of shingles on the free list, Senator Nye, Republican, Independent, North Dakota, said the Senate could "well afford" to approve the action of the committee.

Hockey Meeting Delayed

Seattle Officials Refuse to Talk Business; Incensed at Frank Patrick

One of Present Seattle Owners May Establish Victoria Cubs in Tacoma

Seattle, Nov. 13.—A scheduled meeting here of officials of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, called for 9 o'clock this morning to decide what to do with the homeless Victoria Cubs had not gotten under way at noon. The Victoria Ice Arena burned down last Sunday leaving the Cubs without a home.

It was reported that the Seattle officials were refusing to talk business. The Seattle club was said to be incensed for two reasons—first, because of the league, has intimated that he would like to place the Cougars here as a second Seattle team, and second because he called to-day's meeting without consulting the local hockey men and refused to advance it to last night.

However, the meeting was expected to get under way this afternoon as some kind of a settlement must be made under the two-year agreement the four clubs—Vancouver, Victoria, Portland and Seattle—reached last fall. The general opinion was that the Cubs will wind up as a road club.

It was intimated that one of the present Seattle owners may purchase the Victoria club and establish it in Tacoma, building an arena there that would be ready for occupancy before the start of the 1930-31 season.

Nate Drumman, business manager and part owner of the Seattle Eskimos, has been dickering with a syndicate of Tacoma business men for some time. Hugh M. Caldwell is president of the Seattle club.

Woman Questioned Regarding Deaths Of New Jersey Children

Camden, N.J., Nov. 13.—Long and intensive questioning of Gladys May Parks, known as "Mrs. Baker," and a number of other names, charged with the killing of one child and under suspicion of doing away with another, apparently has failed to break down her story that the children died by accident.

The prisoner, who is thirty-five, yesterday passed through an ordeal similar to that of Monday, when she was compelled to point out the shallow graves at Absecon, near Atlantic City, and at National Park, four miles south of here, where she buried the bodies of two women, who remained calm under the heavy fire of questions by the prosecutor and detectives, was taken to the house where Dorothy Rogers, four, died, and then to the dwelling where Timothy Rogers, two, died. At both places the prisoner was confronted by crowds, among them many neighbors she knew, and had to listen to wrathful remarks aimed at her. She showed no concern.

After the visits Miss Parks was returned to her cell in the Camden County jail and yesterday afternoon she again was subjected to examination by detectives.

THRONGS VISIT PRIEST'S GRAVE TO BE CURED

Hundreds of Thousands Go to Cemetery at Malden, Massachusetts

Malden, Mass., Nov. 13.—Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, yesterday visited the grave in the Holy Cross Cemetery of Rev. Patrick J. Power, which for two weeks past has been the shrine of pilgrims from all quarters of New England and from Canada seeking relief from bodily ills in its reputedly curative qualities.

The cardinal arrived alone and unannounced after the little crowd of several hundred which gathered outside the cemetery gates before dawn had swollen to many thousands. He stood silently aside, watching the crippled, the maimed and the blind file to the grave's edge in a seemingly endless line, pray for a moment and then snatch a handful of earth and file away. He said he had come merely to witness the situation for himself and that his visit had no official significance.

Before noon the crowd that had visited the cemetery was estimated as being more than 30,000 and thousands of others continued to come throughout the afternoon and until the caretakers finally closed the gates for the night.

Cemetery officials first became aware of extraordinary interest in the Father Power grave several weeks ago. Small groups began visiting the grave and scooping rain water from a chain carved in the gravestone. Rumors of miraculous cures became widespread and the crowds of pilgrims increased in size until two weeks ago it was necessary for the cemetery officials to close the gates at night in keeping the line in order. Over the last week-end it was estimated more than 200,000 persons had visited the shrine and to save the grave from damage, a low wooden fence was built around it, with openings on two sides, through which the pilgrims might file.

Father Power died at the age of twenty-five years, and the body was buried about six years ago. Until the pilgrimages became popular, little was known of his life and no one has advanced an explanation as to why his particular grave should have been chosen from among those of scores of priests buried in the cemetery.

Several of those who visited the shrine yesterday claimed to have been cured of illnesses, as had others each day since the pilgrimages were started. Some left crutches and canes behind them in the cemetery and chapel.

TWO RUM MEN WERE DROWNED IN LAKE ERIE

Belated News Comes of Deaths of Smugglers During U.S. Patrol Boat's Attack

Toronto, Nov. 13.—A special dispatch to The Toronto Evening Telegram from Windsor, Ont., to-day said: "Confirmation of the drowning of two rum-runners operating out of Kingsville, Ont., was forthcoming today on the return from the ill-fated mission men is said to have been Oscar Tansie, twenty-four, of Cleveland, Ohio. The other is believed to have been a native of Western Canada, but his identity has not been determined definitely."

The trio left Kingsville Sunday, October 27, with a cargo of liquor for an Ohio port. Running through United States waters of Lake Erie, they were sighted by a United States coastguard patrol, which opened fire. The rum craft did not halt and a direct shot from the United States vessel's one-pounder gun hit the boat ablaze. Tansie and the Canadian leaped overboard and were drowned.

CANADA URGED TO ADMIT CHINESE

Brockville, Ont., Nov. 13.—A suggestion that the present exclusion of Chinese immigrants from Canada was humiliating to Chinese national honor and that the regulations of 1923 should be amended to permit a small quota of Chinese immigrants to enter Canada annually, or that a gentleman's agreement with China similar to that now in force in the case of Japan should be negotiated, was made before the Brockville Rotary Club yesterday by Tchuai L. Chinese consul-general at Ottawa. He expressed hope the Federal Government would see its way clear to remove the present discrimination against Chinese nationals, and predicted that with such restrictions removed a tremendous impetus would be given the already increasing Canadian export trade with China.

Robb Worked For Empire Plans For Conference

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Death removed Hon. James A. Robb, Federal Minister of Finance, before realization of plans for an economic conference of the British Empire, to which he had devoted considerable time during the last six months.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald had expressed the hope such a conference would be held in Ottawa and Mr. Robb's deep interest in the Empire's economic affairs and the possibility that economic experts would gather in the Canadian capital caused him to work hard in behalf of the preparatory plans.

THE PRIME MINISTER ARRIVES

THE UNEXPECTED LOSS OF THEIR valued colleague has imparted to the visit here of the Prime Minister of Canada and two members of his Cabinet a tone of sadness, the depth of which will readily be understood. The relations between Hon. Mr. Robb and his fellow-Ministers were uniformly happy—in fact, affectionate—and it will be with a heavy burden of sorrow that the Prime Minister, the Minister of Defence and the Minister of Health and Pensions will continue their present tour.

It is now some twenty-seven years since Premier King first visited Victoria in an official capacity. As Deputy Minister of Labor, although only in his early twenties, he came out to conduct an investigation into labor troubles on Vancouver Island. He made a number of trips to the province on similar missions in after years, and in all of them he was signally successful. He also conducted inquiries into the Oriental immigration question, his investigation taking him to the Orient. Probably no other public man is as well informed upon this and other subjects affecting our province as the present head of the Canadian Government. Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Defence, is visiting the Coast for the first time since he became a member of the Government, while Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Pensions, of course, is widely known and esteemed as British Columbia's representative in the Cabinet.

Two years after Mr. Mackenzie King had been chosen to lead the Liberal Party of Canada at a representative convention in Ottawa in 1919 he led his forces to victory and became Prime Minister. It was a most difficult period in the country's history. The hectic days of post-war prosperity had gone; the Canadian people had begun to realize more clearly than it had been possible before what would be expected of them in the years to come. The net debt of the Dominion at that time stood at $2,341,685,146, or approximately six times greater than it was in 1914. Industry already had begun to show alarming signs of slowing up, and the spectre of unemployment on a large scale appeared in the offing. Thousands of our citizens were leaving Canada for what they thought were greater opportunities in the United States. This was the situation which confronted Mr. King when he was called upon to form his first Government after the general election of 1921.

What has taken place in the last eight years is well understood by the Canadian people. Even those who differ from the Prime Minister politically are bound to admit that Canada is in a prosperous condition, that her outlook for the future is brighter than that of any other country in the world. Opponents of the Government, of course, argue that Nature has taken a greater hand in turning the scale of the Dominion's fortunes than any of the works or policies of the Administration at Ottawa. They give scant or no credit at all to the man in whose hands the government of the country has been placed. But we may be sure that if our economic standing were not as favorable as it is, the Government would be roundly blamed for it. In any case, all must admit that the Government has pursued policies from which the country has derived the fullest possible advantages.

There is ample evidence of substantial progress under many heads. Under the late Hon. Mr. Robb's administration of the Dominion's finances the net debt of the country has been reduced by nearly $300,000,000, considerable relief in taxation has been extended to the Canadian people—especially to the citizen earning a moderate salary—while revenues have substantially increased. In practically every direction, moreover, trade has expanded and employment conditions are better now than they ever have been since the records were opened. This fact is reflected in a striking manner in the movement of people between the Dominion and the United States. Figures show that between March 1 and August 31 of this year 20,886 American citizens moved into this country to make their homes here, while 19,486 former Canadians who had resided in the neighboring republic for more than six months returned to Canada. In the same period 34,376 Canadians went south across the border, leaving a balance in this country's favor of approximately 6,000.

The Prime Minister, as is well known, always has been a staunch supporter of the British Preference, and from time to time his Government has extended concessions originally given to the British exporter by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In recent speeches, moreover, Mr. King has foreshadowed more intensive development of inter-empire trade. The Canadian-Australian trade treaty, negotiated by the late Mr. Robb, has been of enormous benefit to this province, while the steamship subsidy which recently went into effect will enable our exporters to obtain still greater advantages from this arrangement. The Canadian-British West Indies treaty, another empire trading pact entered into by the present Government at Ottawa, likewise is working well.

Although it has not returned the representation to support the Government which might have been expected, British Columbia has every reason to be satisfied with the attention paid by the King Government to her interests. Its attitude on the freight rates question has been a vital factor in converting the port of Vancouver as an outlet for grain from a position of relative insignificance into that of a rival of Montreal. The ports of Victoria, New Westminster and Prince Rupert also have benefited considerably as a result of the Government's development policies.

As the Prime Minister surveys the record of his Government, therefore, he should have ample reason to be gratified with the success which has attended its policies. On his present trip to this Coast he will be able to see for himself impressive evidence of the strides that have been made since he was last here three years ago. He will be able to visualize more clearly than ever the important part British Columbia is bound to play in the development of trade with the rest of the empire and with the world at large. Upon the development of that trade—so successfully begun in the wider sense under his regime—depends so much the country's economic fortunes.

WALL STREET RIDDLES

THE CURRENT ANTICS OF THE STOCK market are puzzling enough, but they are not half as puzzling as some of the comments that have been made by our financial and industrial overlords. There seems to be a feeling of relief that the small investor is being removed from the scene. It is being said, almost with an air of rejoicing, that this small investor has been forced out. The little fellow, evidently, was guilty of many peculiar sins.

One high commentator says that the market got out of kilter in the first place because the small investor persisted in putting in his money. He came in in swarms, into the sacred precincts of Wall Street, where only the mighty are supposed to tread; and the flood of money that he brought—for there were many of him—sent prices away up where they should not have been.

Another blames the small investor in another way. After buying beyond all reason, he says, the small investor stopped buying—and, at that moment, the bottom began to fall out of things. It was reprehensible for the little fellow to start, and it was reprehensible for him to stop. He caused trouble both ways.

Quite beyond all of that, however, there remains that strange, but quite evident, feeling of relief that the little fellow has at last gone out. One gathers, listening to these high pronouncements, that it is quite proper for a millionaire to buy 1,000 shares of United States Steel, and quite dreadful for a shoe salesman to buy fifty.

When the big fellow does it, he is investing, he is helping to maintain the easy flow of credit and financial support that sustain prosperity, he is indulging in esoteric and praiseworthy financial manipulations; but when the small investor does it, he is gambling, and his activities hurt the market, disturb business and lower the moral tone of the country.

This sort of thing is harder to understand than the stock market crash itself. It is only typical, however, of the fuzzy way in which mental processes always seem to work where Wall Street is involved.

Probably it is just as well, all around, that the joy-ride has ended. It was spreading an unhealthy atmosphere throughout the world. The old lure of something-for-nothing was abroad, potent and irresistible. People wanted to get rich, not by hard work, but by luck; and the great gamblers who took big fortunes out of Wall Street were not looked upon for what they were, but were considered industrial and financial leaders.

Probably it will be a long time before the immediate causes of the crash are agreed upon. Meanwhile, we wish that the financial world's big-wigs would stop being so sanctimonious about the crimes of the small investor. A few months ago they were welcoming the small investor with brass bands. Now, with their eyes on heaven, they are telling him that he should have stayed home and practiced sober thrift.

Gambling, apparently, is a sin unless you have a million dollars.

NO TAX ON SHINGLES

BRITISH COLUMBIA SHINGLES WILL not be taxed by the United States. By a vote of forty-eight to thirty the Senate this morning sustained the recommendation of the Finance Committee that this commodity still should remain on the free list, where it has been since 1913. By the same substantial margin, by the way, a motion to reduce the duty on pig iron from $1.12½ a ton to seventy-five cents a ton was carried, after a proposal to increase it to $1.50 a ton had been considered.

This morning's vote, incidentally, is another reminder that Mr. Mackenzie King was on sound ground when he advised Parliament at its last session not to get unduly excited over the tariff proposals which our neighbors then had announced. He said at the time they undoubtedly would be very considerably changed before the bill was ready for President Hoover's signature. Canada certainly would have looked foolish if Parliament had taken the course which the opposition so loudly demanded. If it had, British Columbia shingle manufacturers by this time probably would have been making preparations to close down a number of their plants. This would have meant a matter of millions lost to this province.

Senator Reed from Pennsylvania, the highest of high protectionists, twice recently has said the tariff bill is as good as dead already. He sees no chance of the House of Representatives accepting it in its present emasculated form.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

FRESH GLORY OF DAWN

Sir James Jeans, F.R.S., in The Universe Around Us Take a postage stamp and stick it on a penny. Now climb Cleopatra's Needle (seventy feet in height) and lay the penny flat, postage stamp uppermost, on top of the obelisk. The height of the whole structure may be taken to represent the time that has elapsed since the earth was born.

On this scale, the thickness of the penny and the postage stamp together represents the time that man has lived upon the earth. The thickness of the postage stamp represents the time he has been civilized, the thickness of the penny representing the time he lived in an uncivilized state.

Now stick another postage stamp on top of the first to represent the next 5,000 years of civilization, and keep sticking on postage stamps until you have a pile as high as Mount Blanc (15,783 feet) the first postage stamp represents what man has already achieved; the pile which tops Mount Blanc represents what he may achieve; if his cultural achievement is proportional to his time on earth.

As inhabitants of the earth, we are living at the very beginning of time. We come into being in the fresh glory of the dawn, and a day of almost unthinkable length stretches before us, with unimaginable opportunities for accomplishment.

Loose Ends

The Silly Season is a total loss—with only a feeble exhibit from New Jersey—England demands sculpture made of sterner stuff—and Mrs. McCormick donates one cow.

By H. B. W.

LOOKING BACK from the elevation of the first days of winter upon the days of this year that have gone, one notes a lamentable collapse in the usual Silly Season. Until the last minute I have waited to see if something really worthy of the Silly Season would happen and I have waited in vain. There have been no sea serpents of note this year. Ogo-pogo, of Okanagan Lake, seems to have lost his old fire and retired into a scuffle old-age. The great monster which used to dwell in Williams Lake, in the Cariboo, apparently has become too respectable to get into the newspapers. No Giant Gooseberries or Monster Marrows or Thundering Turnips are reported in Saanich. There hasn't been a cougar in the park for ages. Even the usual quota of English Channel swimmers fell off lamentably this year, and on the whole the Silly Season was the dullest on record.

THE ONLY real attempt to live up to old standards is reported in New Jersey, where someone captured a marine monster which was "a strange mixture of whale, pig and bat," for "it has wings like a bat, a tail like a whale, an eye in each ear and mouth twelve inches long on the top of its head but without teeth." Its point of resemblance to a pig is not quite obvious, but one observer suggested that the people who described it were thinking of one of those pigs you draw with your eyes shut. Altogether, it is a poor imitation of the good old-fashioned sea serpent. The loyal people of Okanagan undoubtedly will resent the suggestion that it is Ogo-pogo's brother, for the Okanagan family are definitely known to resemble a sheep so closely that many have taken them for porcupines, alligators and wild ducks. Anyway, when this New Jersey offering is the best that the past Silly Season could do it must be written off as a total loss. Next summer, let us hope, will offer something better. Meanwhile we shall have the Legislature to beguile us during the winter.

THOSE WHO think that the passion for art which marked earlier civilizations is dead in ours should contemplate what has been going on in England lately, as an aftermath of the great Epstein controversy. It started, of course, when ordinary folk, outraged at the strange forms of Mr. Epstein's statues of "Night" and "Day" in a new subway building, launched a demand that life, hideous enough already, should not be subjected to new horrors in public places. The next development was the tarring-and-feathering of Sir George Frampton's famous statue of Peter Pan in Kensington Gardens, apparently by partisans of the Epstein school, which regarded Peter contemptuously as of the "wedding cake variety of sculpture." It fit only for mug-Victorians. The partisans of Peter Pan and the enemies of Epstein had their revenge recently when the same feathery fate befell that gentleman's notorious image of Rima, the bird girl, in Hyde Park. A policeman found this stone monstrosity one morning deep in tar and feathers and, being a believer in Peter Pan and fairies, he probably felt that justice had been done.

NOW ALL this was enough to indicate the spirit of Britain when aroused, but more was to come. The latest move in this long and bitter campaign is an attack on Mr. Epstein, not for being too grotesque, but for not being grotesque enough. A new school of artistic thought has arisen to declare that Mr. Epstein's flare for depicting ladies with elephantiasis is amateurish and old-fashioned. They demand sculpture that is made of sterner stuff—"statues that will be symbolic and not in the uneasy, transitional stage of Mr. Epstein who still clings to recognizably human forms."

HERE AT last is some real hope of salvation. Of course that is what we need, as we intellectuals have long realized. It has been apparent to us from the beginning that Mr. Epstein's weak addiction to "recognizably human forms" is just photography in stone, not real art at all. True, Mr. Epstein distorts the human features so that they are recognizable and no more, but if they are still part of what is evidently a face, and if this face seems to be at the front of an object which is suspected of being a head and if this object is at the end of an alleged neck, why then, where is there any real art or purpose at all? As long as heads are attached to necks and necks above shoulders we might as well give up the idea of real art and go back to the pathetic crudities of Greece and Rome. But some day we, intellectuals will be our way. Some day faces will flourish on our statuary where feet were once affixed, and the value of a monument to a departed statesman will be proved by a general inability to distinguish his head from his heels.

MRS. RUTH HANNA McCormick, famous Illinois politician, is a lady of imagination. The other day she selected a pure-bred cow from among the herds on her farm and presented it to the Chicago zoo. Thousands of Chicago kiddies who know a rhinoceros and can recognize a giraffe have never seen the source of their milk shakes, but now, thanks to Mrs. McCormick, they will be able to look at a real live gift cow in the mouth.

THE IDEA of an ordinary cow in the zoo as a rare animal made many American editors choke, but that is only the beginning of this great movement. City life will also make ordinary worthwhile dogs so rare that specimens of them, too, if they can be found, will be placed in zoos for the edification of people who own Pomeranians and other degenerate descendants of a once noble species. Still greater wonders await attendants at zoological gardens in the future. At the present rate of invention robots will soon be doing all the work of human beings, and doubtless in time will succeed them altogether. When that happy time comes the successful robots who then baste the world will probably preserve a few specimens of the human species safely behind the bars, and these specimens will be no more commonplace to them than the cow is to the people of Chicago.

BY A majority of the robots, doubtless, the strange human animal of ancient times will be regarded as puny and inefficient, and they will resent the fact that these creatures were their ancestors as much as we resent the parenthood of monkeys. Perhaps a few robots will see in the human being some lingering sign of qualities and talents then extinct. But the majority will laugh such observers to scorn, being like the majority of present-day zoo-goers.

ROAD BUILDING IN CALIFORNIA

To the Editor:—Having had some experience in an official capacity in building roads in eastern Canada, I was interested in watching the building of a mile of roadway into Capitol-by-the-Sea.

The work was divided into two half-mile stretches by a cross road, and the building was as follows:
1. The rough material was scraped off.
2. The roadbed was watered and ploughed a few inches deep.
3. This was scraped off and the roadbed graded.
4. Four or five inches of broken rock mixed with a coarse gravel (not sand) was then spread on.
5. This was graded and rolled.
6. This was then watered and rolled again.
7. When dry a coat of hot tar or road oil was put on and pebbly gravel swished over the hot tar and then rolled.

The same was repeated a second time, after which the earthy curbs or sides which were left for support when building were rolled out flat.

It only took about ten days to finish each half mile with about a half dozen men and their equipment.

It is a beautiful road with a slightly rough finish and no restrictions as to any kind or weight of trucks.

Nearly twenty years ago a piece of macadamized road was laid on Cook Street.

I saw the workmen putting sand on the top, and I knew from experience that it would never form a bond. Being a North American Chinaman I was afraid to make a suggestion, but you no doubt know the results.

and I will feel well recompensed for my trouble if my information will be of some assistance.
Thanking you kindly Mr. Editor for the space.

ALMISTICE DAY

To the Editor:—The Armistice Period Committee desire, on their behalf, to thank you and through you all those of their fellow citizens who, by aiding in the work of their campaign or by buying and wearing poppies, made such a success of their Poppy Day appeal for funds for the relief of the dependents of the fallen and of those of their comrades who are suffering as the result of their wounds or privations in the Great War.

But in offering our sincere thanks may we be pardoned if we urge that the feeling of gratitude and sympathy called forth by the anniversary of the Armistice should not again be exploited for appeals for any other object, no matter of how worthy a nature that object may be.

The campaign for funds for building a home for the blind, whether in Vancouver or elsewhere, must at any time have appealed to the sympathy of all right-thinking people. But we feel that it need not have been carried on during the week that for many years past has been devoted to the purpose of relieving those who saved us from the agony and ruin which defeat in 1918 would have involved; nor, in our opinion, should special services be held to commemorate Armistice Day, at which people are asked to contribute their offerings to any other cause than that of the returned men themselves.

As the years go, the effect of those years in the water-soaked trenches, with the din of artillery unceasing by night or day, and death and mutilation on every side, is having, and must have, an ever-increasing effect upon the vitality of those who passed through them. It will constitute an ever-increasing demand upon our sympathy and our purses to relieve the necessities of those men and their dependents, to whom our country owes so deep a debt.

PERCY LAKE, Lt.-General.
Chairman Armistice Period Committee.

CITY STOPS GRANDSTAND PLAN AT PARK

Union Carpenters Protest Scale of Wages Paid at Royal Athletic

No Funds in Hand to Complete Project at $8 a Day, Council Replies

The city was violating the principles of the fair wage clause in public contracts by employing carpenters at work on the new grandstand at Royal Athletic Park at less than the $8 per day wage being paid generally in the trade, the City Council was informed last night, in a communication from R. Townsend, recording secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local Union No. 1398.

The protest of the union was backed up by a delegation of fifty carpenters, who attended the council meeting, and watched the proceedings for several hours.

The council ordered a stoppage of all work at Royal Athletic Park, to take effect immediately, and an inquiry into the substance of the complaint.

ROUGH WORK
Alderman James Adam, chairman of the Royal Athletic Park Committee, in explanation, said that six men were at work rough carpentry, one paid at $5.75 a day and two others at $4.75 a day. Three men not in the city's employ were also engaged at $4.75 a day. When the rough work was done, skilled carpenters would be required and taken on by the city, he stated.

Alderman E. S. Woodward saw the complaint as a case for council action. The carpenters requested that the city recognize the same scale as paid generally by building contractors of Victoria. If the city awarded a contract it would itself insist on the fair wage clause, and this, in the case of carpenters, was at the rate of $8 a day. The city should agree that for the completion of the work at the park $8 a day would be paid carpenters. Carpentry work, said the alderman, was any work with edged tools. Mr. Woodward moved the council accede to the request, and employ skilled men for the work.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar seconded the motion. He had not been aware that such a situation had arisen, he said. Alderman John Worthington said he had been against the proposal to build a new stand at Royal Athletic Park from the start, as he deemed it a makeshift, and held that the city should go elsewhere to shake a playground that would serve future needs. Mayor Herbert Ansonb gave it as his view that if $8 a day had to be paid for this class of work only half eth work at Royal Athletic Park could be done this year. It might be necessary to stop work altogether, said Alderman H. O. Litchfield, if there were not funds in hand to cover the expenditure. Alderman Adam proposed a reference of the question to the works and Royal Athletic Park committees for report. No skilled labor was involved, he reiterated. Any work requiring the use of edged tools was carpentry work, repeated Mr. Woodward, urging that work be continued at $8 a day. The reference to the works and park committees carried, and all work at Royal Athletic Park will be stopped while the council waits for a further report on the subject.

CITY UPHeld ON TAX APPEAL

Assessment Review Before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald Is Concluded

The City of Victoria was upheld yesterday in a judgment by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, dismissing the appeal of John McGregor of 1235 Style Street against the assessment of house property at $2,650 on improvements.

Mr. McGregor appealed to the City Court of Revision from the assessment notice of the city assessor, George Okell, and appealed from the finding of the Court of Revision to a Supreme Court judge.

The hearing occupied morning and afternoon yesterday before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, a number of witnesses being called to testify as to property values in the Victoria West area in the neighborhood of Style Street. J. B. Clearhues appeared for the appellant and H. A. Maclean, K.C., and H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, for the city.

At the close of evidence Mr. Justice Macdonald dismissed the appeal. His judgment was based on the weight of evidence, he said, bearing in mind what had been said in the witness stand by the city assessor. The latter was under oath to prepare assessment lists conscientiously and to the best of his ability, and had given his reasons for making the assessment in question in the case.

R. H. Shanks, Beaumont Boggs, Max Lohbrunner, James Forman and George Okell gave evidence during the hearing.

WEST WILD AND WOOLLY, SAYS EASTERN CANON

Tells Montreal Gathering Conditions in Western Canada Like Darkest Africa

Montreal, Nov. 13.—In Western Canada people are living in conditions like those in darkest Africa, stated Canon A. P. Cover-Bue in an address before the Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church yesterday. Because there are no ministers to perform marriages and baptisms, people are living together unmarried and their children had no opportunity to be baptized, he declared. For reasons such as these, he thoroughly approved of the W.A.'s policy of giving its greatest assistance within its Dominion.

"It is well that most of your work is in Canada, because it is a nation which is growing, and you are helping to fix a foundation on which it can grow," he told them.

He cautioned them, however, not to follow a short-sighted policy. The world was not becoming a neighborhood, he declared. At present the society's business was to consolidate today, but they must not forget the gospel. Not only China and India and other originally non-Christian countries required missionary assistance, but Russia would soon be crying out for help, he predicted.

MONTREAL TENOR TO SING HERE

Stanley Maxted in "When We Were Very Young" Songs Thursday

Stanley Maxted, the brilliant Montreal tenor who is to appear in recital with Miss Mary Frances James at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening, was born in England and sang as a boy soprano in Folkestone Parish Church.

Coming to Canada while still a youth, he lived in Toronto till the outbreak of war, when he went overseas with the Eaton Machine Gun Battery. Commissioned in the Imperial Artillery he was transferred to the Canadian Artillery just before the Armistice and is now Major Commanding the 27th Battery, C.F.A. He studied singing in Toronto with the late Arthur Blight and with Signor Morando, and in Pittsburgh with Ernest Shepherd.

Owing to the purity of his tenor voice and fine diction, he has been in great demand for oratorios. Recently he has made a special reputation in interpreting songs by A. A. Milne. "When We Were Very Young," set by Fraser Simson. These he has recorded for the Brunswick Company. He is under contract to broadcast for W.A.B.C. New York, this fall.

Lawrence Masson, in The Toronto Globe, says "Mr. Maxted has a beautiful tenor voice of practically faultless character and takes high rank among Canadian singers displayed a most unusual clarity of enunciation to match his many other excellencies."

Miss James needs little introduction to Victoria audiences for her delightful soprano voice is well known to the many habitués of the Empress Hotel, who heard her sing there frequently last winter.

She is Canadian by birth, from the province of New Brunswick. Her musical education was chiefly in Montreal where she rapidly came to the front as a lyric soprano. Miss James held the Peterson Scholarship at the McGill Conservatory of Music for two years and was leading soprano at the St. James United Church, the largest church of its kind in Canada. She was among the stars at the Banff Highland gatherings of 1927, 1928 and 1929 and also at the Christmas Music Festival of 1928 at Victoria and Vancouver Music Festival of 1929.

YOUR BABY and MINE

for MOTHERS BY MARY ELIZABETH LIND

Mrs. Lind will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies as children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

REJOICE IF YOUR CHILD WON'T SIT STILL!

Mothers expect too much of small children. One gathers from numerous instances that their chief expectation is that the child will be quiet and contented. "Now be good, and sit still!" Being active would seem, in view of these words, to be the opposite of good.

Adults reach the age when sitting still in a rocker seems to them the some of bliss, but the small child has numerous stages to go through before he arrives there. Being active is as necessary to him as breathing. The parent soon discovers that any amount of spanking, slapping, yanking, yelling or other methods an annoyed mother resorts to, is ineffectual. She should be thankful that this is a language child who is willing to sit still is the one who should worry her, not his active brother or sister who is "into" everything.

MOTHERS EXPECT THE IMPOSSIBLE

Recently I saw a mother driven to the point of tears—tears of anger and fatigue—in her futile efforts to keep an eighteen-month-old boy quiet. She said, with eyes raised to heaven as witness of her seriousness, "If I ever get out of here, I am bringing this child back again." After an hour of such futile efforts, one of the attendants took the child in hand, gave him a few long, deep breaths, and he was asleep in a moment. She said she felt as though she had been trying to run away. When these had out-

NURSES' HOME IS NEARLY READY

St. Joseph's W.A. to Hold Annual Bazaar in New Building

The spacious assembly hall of the new nurses' home of St. Joseph's Hospital has been fitted out for the annual bazaar and sale of work of the ladies' auxiliary, to be held on Thursday, November 21.

Although the new home will not be ready for occupation until December, the conveners of the bazaar feel that many of the friends of the institution will welcome the opportunity afforded by the bazaar to inspect this handsome new addition to St. Joseph's facilities. It is a four-story structure of unique design, erected at the corner of Rupert and Collinson Streets, adjacent to the new wing of the hospital. The home is equipped with large airy bedrooms, sewing room, class room, dining room, library and sitting rooms on each floor, spacious living and recreation rooms, swimming pool, and modern laundry rooms have been provided in the home, and hot water heating system installed throughout, and altogether it should prove a boon to the nursing staff of the hospital.

SIDNEY I.O.D.E. AID VETERANS

Sidney, Nov. 13.—The regular monthly meeting of the Allies Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held in the Scout Hall on November 7. The regent was in the chair. After the regular routine business was disposed of, various appeals for assistance were read by the secretary. After some discussion the chapter decided to assist six returned soldiers' families in Quernel, and to send $3 to the ex-Soldiers' Welfare Association.

Announcement was made of a sale to be held by the first Sidney I.O.D.E. Company Girl Guides, on November 28, in aid of funds to paint their hall, and the chapter's patronage was asked.

During October the chapter sent large quantities of clothing, bottled fruit and jam to the Solarium, in appreciation of which a grateful letter from the superintendent was read.

To augment the funds of the chapter a silver tea will be held early in December. Mrs. O. J. Rochford has been appointed convener of the affair, and further details will be announced later. I.O.D.E. calendars for 1930 have been distributed to the schools of North and South Saanich and to the Scout and Guide Hall in Sidney. The first Sidney I.O.D.E. Company Girl Guides sent the chapter a message of thanks for the very enjoyable party given them by the chapter.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Belton for the most interesting report she gave of the semi-annual Provincial I.O.D.E. meeting which was held at Chilliwack.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

Dennison Art Craft Classes To Be Started

Of particular interest at this time is the forthcoming Victoria visit of Miss Sarah Hockett, instructor from the Dennison school of paper and wax craft. Miss Hockett will inaugurate a week of instruction at Diggon's Limited next Monday morning and those who take pleasure in this form of handicraft are invited to attend.

During the week of November 18 to 24 instruction will be given every day. Subjects featured will be the art of working in the new sterilized glass; how to make novelties of crepe paper, rags, bed pillows, colorful parrots, flowers, lamp shades, party favors and other items suitable for inexpensive Christmas presents are listed among the subjects to be taught.

Ladies who are interested in these classes of free instruction are invited to communicate with Diggon's Limited without delay. Hours of instruction will be from 10 to 12 and from 1:30 to 4:30 each afternoon next week.

It's New! Irradiation of a whole-wheat cereal with Ultra-Violet Rays

Muffets... "ribbons" of whole wheat... bring you health vitamin of sunshine—no increase in price!

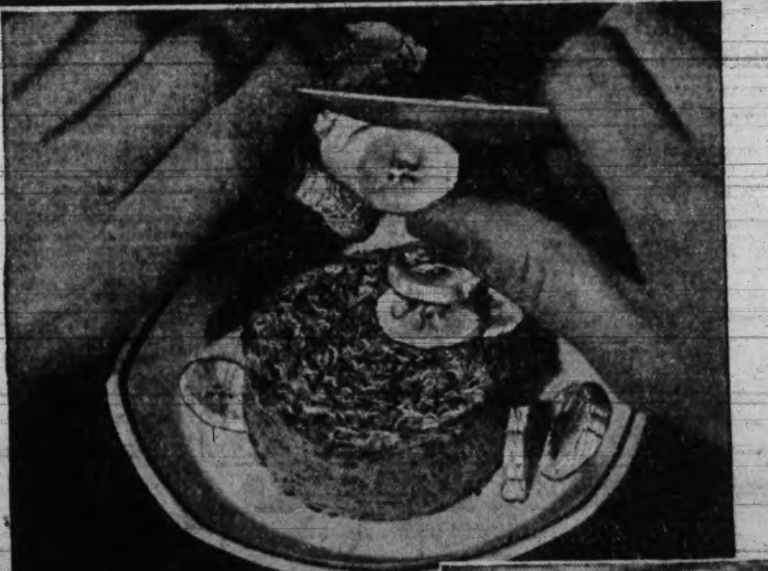

WHAT is the vital element in sunshine that promotes health? Only recently have scientists found out. They have named it Vitamin "D", the sunshine vitamin.

And now Professor Steenbock of the University of Wisconsin, distinguished scientist, has found that this sun vitamin can be passed on to you by irradiating Muffets, the different whole-wheat cereal, with Ultra-Violet Rays.

A Muffet is a "ribbon" of cooked whole wheat wound 'round and 'round and toasted to a rich brown. Ready to eat with sugar and cream, with berries or fruit added... or just 'buttered. Um-m-m-m! What a meal.

And now Muffets are irradiated for your health! Nutritionists acclaim Prof. Steenbock's discovery as one of the most important in the history of foods.

The sunshine vitamin enables the body to make better use of the lime in cereals, milk and other foods. Teeth and bone are built of lime. Children need plenty of the sunshine vitamin if teeth are to be sound and hard; bones straight and strong. Adults, likewise, need the sun vitamin. The Ultra Violet Rays of the sun cannot penetrate through ordinary window glass, and they are effectively stopped by fog or smoke, and even by the clothes you wear. Now you can have a "dash of sunshine" at every meal in every season. Muffets bring it to you. No other whole-wheat cereal offers you this health advantage. Won't you try irradiated Muffets tomorrow for breakfast? Your grocer can supply you.

Growing bodies need the "sun vitamin." Here it is now added to a nutritious whole-wheat cereal.

Campaign Being Launched to Secure New Arena In Victoria

THE SPORTS MIRROR

ONE of the most valuable institutions in the sporting life of Victoria passed with the razing of the Willows Arena, which has provided hockey and skating for the citizens of this community since 1911. The real value of the arena to this city as a source of winter entertainment has now been most forcibly brought home to local residents. The most serious feature is that there seems little chance of another arena being constructed here.

In all circles the main topic the last few days has been the destruction of the arena. "What will we do all winter?" seemed to be the main question. "Will they rebuild?" is another point being discussed.

Destruction of the arena was a serious blow to the Commercial Hockey teams. Two of these clubs had purchased all new equipment, both being ready to make their debut this year. Whether or not they will be able to return the skates, sticks, sweaters, boots, pads, etc., is not known. The disaster will also hit the sporting goods stores hard. The majority of them are heavily stocked with equipment.

There was never a more dejected looking bunch of fellows than members of the Victoria Cubs as they left for Vancouver to be completely refitted and continue their training for the opening of the season against the Vancouver Lions next Monday. Nicely settled down here for the winter the boys were made what might be termed "homeless" overnight. Ode Love was one of the most forlorn looking as a couple of days before he had bought a new car and he didn't know just what to do with it. Several other players had ordered new suits and other personal belongings and they were at a quandary as to how they would get delivery and where. All of them like Victoria and they were heart sick at having to leave here. Just before he left Jack Kelly, a well-known player from the trail of the steamer, "Never mind, I'm sure coming back some time this winter for a game of golf."

Dan Howley, newly appointed manager of the Cincinnati Reds, evidently doesn't think much of the Redland players, judging by his announcement that he will trade, sell or give away the majority of the 1929 Reds. Howley hasn't even seen these players in action but he has heard a lot from dissatisfied Cincinnati fans, and he intends to make a real house cleaning performance. Hughey Cruz, one of the greatest second basemen in major league, may also be sacrificed and it is reported John McGraw, New York Giant leader, will take over his contract and send three players, among them a star pitcher, to the Reds. Last season attendance figures fell off at an alarming rate in Cincinnati, and it was apparent some drastic action was necessary.

The possibility of another Canadian city, one that has always taken a prominent part in the hockey world, losing its hockey team is the announcement that Ottawa has decided to play five of its "home" games on the road, two at Detroit, two at Atlantic City and one at Boston. This makes Atlantic City look up as a possibility in N.H.L. hockey. There is a monster auditorium there quite capable of handling upwards of 20,000 people. Sometimes coming events cast their shadows before. During the last two seasons the Senators played several "home" games at the Detroit Olympia, so the experiment of this year is not new.

Light champions have proved more durable than the titlholders of any other class. Dick Lavigne boxed for twenty-four years; Battling Nelson for twenty; Joe Gans, nineteen; Frank Erne and Ed. Wolgast, fifteen each, and Benny Leonard, twelve. Leonard was still a formidable opponent for any lightweight. A welter-weight when he voluntarily retired, and might have continued in the game much longer had he so desired.

ALPINE CLUB ENJOYS CAMP

Under the leadership of C. L. Harrison, a party of the local Alpine Club trekked into the Lake of the Seven Hills, Sooke on Saturday, and spent an enjoyable two nights under canvas there. The campers were quite comfortable in their tents and enjoyed the usual evening bonfires held on such outings.

The party went in on Saturday with five pack horses and an extra supply of blankets and other equipment. During the evening a slight frost came but failed to dampen the spirits of the campers, who spent Sunday exploring the land about the Seven Hills, where they hope to build a club hut as a base for further hikes.

The outing marked the last major function of the club for the season, but a half-day hike to Mount Macdonald will be staged on November 30.

New York, Nov. 13.—George Goldberg, Brownsville lightweight, won an easy decision over the veteran Johnny Dundee in the main event of the fight at the Broadway Arena in Brooklyn last night. Goldberg outpointed the former featherweight and junior lightweight champion in every round.

PROMOTER IS GIVEN TERM BEHIND BARS

Gus Sonnenberg Obtains Conviction Against Pete Ladjone For Assault

Sentence Is Thirty Days; Ladjone Called Gus a "Cheesy Champion"

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—Pete Ladjone, promoter, was convicted on a charge of battery brought by Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, by a municipal court jury last night, and was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Sonnenberg testified that Ladjone called him on the telephone October 22, asking him to talk over some proposed wrestling matches. He said he met Ladjone on a downtown corner, at the intersection of Sixth and Broadway (a principal intersection) and stopped to talk—then, quick as lightning something struck him in the face and he went out. Sonnenberg, whose flying tackles carried him from a Nebraska stridor to the wrestling throne, testified.

"When I came to in a second he was standing over me saying he had kicked the world's champion, and that I was a cheesy champion anyway," the wrestler concluded.

The jury deliberated ten minutes. Ladjone's attorney filed notice of appeal and the promoter was released under $1,000 bail.

Mrs. Watson was a valuable member of the English Wightman Cup team, and was finalist against Miss Helen Wills for the United States title.

Miss Betty Nuthall, who forced Miss Helen Wills to retire in the Wimbledon Cup series, was placed third in the ranking list, Miss Ellen Benett, who did not make the trip to America, being named as champion, received the No. 2 position.

The rankings:

Sonnenberg And Lewis Meet For Title To-night

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, again will seek to regain his lost laurels in the ring here to-night in a finish bout with Gus Sonnenberg, titleholder.

The match, with the championship going to the winner of two out of three falls, follows closely on the heels of one staged here several weeks ago when Sonnenberg won the deciding fall after the seconds for both grapplers had jumped into the ring. The dispute which follows brought about the rematch.

HAWKS ARE PUZZLING QUESTION

Strength of N.H.L. Cellar Occupants Unknown This Season; Have Rebuilt Club

Four New Players Are From Other Leagues; Will Have Heaviest Defence

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Chicago's Black Hawks, cellar occupants in the 1928-29 title race, are probably the most puzzling question mark of the impending National Hockey League campaign.

Major Frederick McLaughlin, wealthy Chicago sportsman, has rebuilt his team almost from the ground up with a new manager and five additional players. The new pilot and four of his latest recruits were obtained from clubs outside of the National loop. Hence the success in a generally accepted faster league is yet to be established.

Tom Shaughnessy, a Chicago attorney, who gained a reputation in amateur ranks as a hockey great and strategist, has taken over the Black Hawks' helm. It is his first venture among the professionals. However, he will have the assistance of one of the smartest players of the game, Dick Irvin, who has captained the Hawks three times, and will confine his activity to the bench this season.

HEAVY DEFENCE

Professional hockey's heaviest duo will play the defence positions for the Hawks. They are Tuffy Abel, a 230-pounder, who was obtained from the New York Rangers, and Duke Dutkowski, leading defence player of the American Association last season, who was purchased from the Kansas City Pla-Mors. Dutkowski tops the beam at 200 pounds. They will alternate with Cyclone Westrich, a 190-pounder, and Tommy Cook, diminutive star of last season's American Association champions, Tulsa Oilers, is a new addition for the centre position. Cook led the team in scoring last year.

Other new centre is Art Somers, who topped all goal getters last season in the Pacific Coast League. Somers came from the Vancouver Lions. Vic Ripley, a 190-pounder, is also ready for action at that position.

The wings, too, have plenty of talent. Frank Ingram, who starred last season on the mainstay team of the American Association, has been acquired for the position. Several veterans are back there. Johnny Gottselig, who showed great improvement toward the end of last year's disastrous campaign; Earl Miller, "Mush" Marsh, twenty-year-old speedster, and Ty Arbour, whom Shaughnessy has named captain. Charlie Gardiner will be goalie, and will have several promising helpmates.

Last year Miss Madison, who has been swimming in competition for two years, went to the National U.S. meet in Detroit and captured the junior United States 100 yards free style championship.

MANY VICTORIES

In addition to this, Miss Madison has met and defeated Pacific northwest champions both in Seattle and Portland. During one of these meets she lowered the northwest record for the 100 yards, coming within a second of the national mark.

Being only sixteen years old, her coach considers her future in the championship world exceptionally bright. Next year he aims to enter her in the national indoor meet for distances from 50 to 500 yards.

Miss Madison will not only swim free style next year, but will try track stroke. She has already beaten the pick of the Pacific northwest women at this, and is expected to continue her successes.

LOOKING FOR COMPETITION

Although disappointed at not being able to enter his portage in the championships on Monday night, Coach Daughters hopes to make arrangements with the B.C. swimming authorities to race her against the best in this province in future meets, either in specially sanctioned competitive meets or in exhibitions.

While her Mr. Daughters established connections with local and Vancouver swimming men. As an outgrowth of these he expects to have Victoria and the Terminal City represented in meets in Seattle.

Possibilities of the three cities combining to bring in first ranking swimmers from the eastern States during their tours of the west was also discussed by the Seattle coach.

SEATTLE STAR HOPES TO SWIM IN CITY AGAIN

Helen Madison, Here With Coach Ray Daughters, Looking For Intercity Competition

Consider Meets With Cities Would Help to Develop Swimming in Northwest

The desire to compete in Victoria against the best local swimmers in order to develop intercity meets between Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria was expressed by Helen Madison, Seattle Crystal Pool sprint ace, who gave an exhibition at the Crystal Garden Monday night.

Miss Madison was accompanied by her coach, Ray Daughters and father, C. W. Madison, during her visit.

Both she and her coach realized the possibilities of intercity competition in developing swimming in the northwest. They both hope to take part in exhibition or competitive swims here in the future, and expressed the hope that they would have Victoria swimmers taking part in gala in Seattle next season.

Last year Miss Madison, who has been swimming in competition for two years, went to the National U.S. meet in Detroit and captured the junior United States 100 yards free style championship.

National Hockey League

Changes New Code of Rules On Eve of Season Opening

Montreal, Nov. 13.—On the eve of the inauguration of the 1929-30 National Hockey League campaign one modification in the new code of rules is announced from the league headquarters here.

The rule which couples only three defending players, including the goal keeper, being in the defence area when the puck is not actually in that part of the rink, has been changed and now reads that only three defence players, including the goal keeper, may be in the defence area "until any member of the attacking side has crossed the blue line."

The change is an important one as it means that if a player on the attacking side crosses the blue line into his opponent's defence area ahead of the puck then his cover of the opposing side may follow him. This will, it is believed, tend to prevent the puck-carrier dashing across the blue line and whipping a pass to an unmarked man who has preceded him into that territory.

Committee May Seek Interview With C.P.R. Officials On Matter

Prospects Look Brighter for Obtaining New Ice Palace; Most Fans Favor Rear of Crystal Garden as Best Location, as Central Place Would Mean Better Patronage; P.C.H.L. in Conference To-day in Seattle.

Prospects of securing a new arena in Victoria looked a little brighter this morning with the launching of a campaign by a number of those most vitally interested towards gaining financial backing for the construction of another ice palace. Rumors were flying around the streets this morning to the effect that a new arena might be built here but just who would finance it was not definitely known.

Efforts were being made this morning to get together a committee of officials of the Commercial Hockey League, representatives of local sporting goods stores and possibly representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, to interview Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and D. C. Colman, vice-president in charge of western lines, with the idea of attempting to interest the company in the undertaking.

Local citizens and devotees of hockey and skating are determined that Victoria will have another arena. This popular pastime has played a big part in the winter activities of this city and as Victoria is advertised throughout the world as the winter playground of the Pacific it is practically essential that another rink be built.

It is also advocated that should a new arena be built here that it be in a more central location. One spot that seems to meet with the favor of everybody is behind the Crystal Garden. If the arena was built there it is thought that the patronage would be greater than if the rink was situated outside the city.

In the meantime directors of the Pacific Coast Hockey League were in conference in Seattle to-day attempting to rearrange their schedule and find a home for the Victoria Cubs. Three different propositions are open to the moguls. They can elect grant a franchise to Tacoma, with their home games to be played at the Seattle arena, they can split up the Victoria team among the other clubs and operate in the league of the Victoria Cubs can become a second Vancouver club and play their home games in the Mainland arena.

New York, Nov. 13.—Western thoroughbreds of the show ring lured it over their more famed eastern rivals yesterday as the colors of Harold Palmer of Cross Point, Mich., and Ben R. Meyer of Beverly Hills, Calif., swept through their fields at the National Horse Show.

Meyer, a lone representative from the Pacific Coast in the Madison Square Garden show, annexed two victories to bring his total blue ribbons won to five, white two championships and one second place ribbon was added to the large collection accumulated by the Michigan sportsman during the first five days of the equine classic. In addition Meyer has won one second place and one fourth.

Dowd, of Winnipeg, secretary of the Western Canada Rugby Union, stated that he and the president of the union would press for the finals here for the championship.

Fugazy May Step Into Position of Late Rickard

Gives Monopoly to Garden By Sale of Valuable Contracts

Former Business Enemy and Rival of Tall Texan Is Now Toast of "600 Millionaires"; Italian Expected to Take Driver's Seat With Bruen as President and Carey as Chairman of Board of Directors; Sold Contracts of Schmeling and Campolo for $65,000.

New York, Nov. 13.—The old order changed, giving place to the new in such striking fashion that the late Tex Rickard, if he could ever visit again the boxing scenes he once dominated, would hardly know them.

Humbert J. Fugazy was once Rickard's business enemy, his rival for supremacy in the field of cauliflower, and when the tall Texan fought he buried the knife to the hilt. In the end Tex conquered Humbert, drove him to Brooklyn to promote his summer shows, and lifted Madison Square Garden to such successful heights that the little Italian could never procure the necessary backing for an indoor arena.

FUGAZY HONORED

To-day Fugazy is the toast of the 600 millionaires, of whom Rickard was so proud. Through his pleasant associations with Bill Carey, successor to the presidency of the Garden, and Frank Bruen, the general manager, Humbert came to dicker with the garden and ended by turning over to them two of the most precious cauliflower chaffs in the heavyweight book market.

For a sum generally estimated at $65,000, Fugazy sold to the Garden the contract for Max Schmeling's services, recognized by the New York state athletic commission as taking precedence over all others. He further sold to the Garden the rights to the three-year contract of Gus Leneve, the manager whose squabbles with Carey charge sent Victorio limping back to South America, determined never to come north again.

GARDEN HAS MONOPOLY

The deal not only gave the Garden

a monopoly of the major heavyweights but indicated that Fugazy himself has come to the end of his bitter, single-handed struggle to get somewhere in the fight business. Indications are more than strong that some new reorganization of the Garden personnel will ultimately find Humbert in the driver's seat that once was Rickard's. Bruen is expected to become president of the organization with Carey stepping back to the chairmanship of the board of directors.

"I'm getting smart," said Fugazy, "where once I was stubborn I'm now just hard-boiled. I'm finding out how to make money."

"Every summer through the past half dozen years, I've taken big, raw heavyweights, given them their chance to reap the financial harvest, with some other circus, with a winter circuit took my pachyderms and left me holding the bag. That happened with Jack Sharkey, Campolo, Paulino Uzcudun, Roberto Roberti, Paul Berlenbach, Jack Delaney and Joe Dundee.

"It won't happen again. I'm going to sell them when they ripen in the fall because they're gone by springtime. Maybe I'll end up wealthy after all."

HAPPY DAY
THE POPULAR CAPTAIN OF CONNIE SMYTH'S LEAFS WHO MEET THE CHI-HAWKS IN THE SEASON'S OPENER AT THE ARENA GARDENS TORONTO

The National Hockey League, with some of the west coast rules added, will be in full blast this week. Ottawa Senators entertain the Canadiens while the Maroons will hold the Montreal citadel against the Rangers threat from Gotham. On the western end of the circuit Boston visits the Cougar lair in the Detroit Olympia while in Toronto the Maple Leafs play host to Chicago. The last battle promises to be far and away the most interesting of the openings. The Chi-Hawks did their preliminary training under the watchful eye of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, and the fans are wondering whether their gridiron diet will make them bigger and better puckchasers. And in addition they've got a manager who is forsaking the beaten path for a new and bold experiment along unorthodox lines. So you'd better keep your eyes peeled on this game. And lest the Chi-Hawks should pull, you'll see plenty of action from Happy Day, colorful Leaf defence star, who—according to the fans—looks better than ever this year. In the 1928 opener, Chicago and Toronto also clashed at the Queen City and Captain Hap was a shining light.

BOWLING

Scattering the pins all over the alley, Les Fox led the individual game scorers in the match his team. The Times, took the Poodle Dog Cafe, in the fivepin fixture last night. The newbies bowled well and came through with a victory by the odd game. Fox scored 291 points to secure his laurels, while L. Leatham, a teammate, took aggregate honors with 650.

Colinist Compos took two games from the Ups and Downs in another fivepin game during the evening. McKenzie of the Ups and Downs led the aggregate scorers with 663, while Dave Clark of the Compos took individual honors with 273.

E. Stewart of the C.N.R. led the bowlers in the other fivepin game which his team won from the Colinist Scribes by three games. His totals were 263 and 634, respectively.

In the Commercial League the Restorers upset the dope defeating James Island, league leaders, by the odd game.

ARENA FIRE

To the Sports Editor:—Would you allow me a few lines in your paper to express sympathy to all those who lost so much in the recent fire at the Arena. I feel sure that there are hundreds of patrons of the Arena who would give a little of their time gratis, if the management of the Arena could see their way to rebuild.

With a few good men to handle the work, I think the patrons and all interested in clean recreation which is derived from skating would soon have another building ready.

I would gladly give as much of my time as I possibly could for the good of clean healthy recreation and sports, though not a skater myself. I enjoy seeing the pleasure it gives to others, and surely Victoria does not want to lose the winter game of hockey.

Polish Army Team Winners Of Big Trophy

New York, Nov. 13.—Making only two and one-half errors, the Polish army team last night won the international military trophy at the National Horse Show. It was the third victory in four years for the Polish riders.

SAANICH, FAIRFIELD AND GARRISON WIN

Chalk Up Victories in Third Division of Lower Island Badminton League; Fairfield, Willows, Emanuel Baptists and North Saanich Remain Undefeated.

The defeat of the Langford Leghorns and the Graham Pales at the hands of the North Saanich and Fairfield badminton clubs, featured last night's play in Third Division of the Lower Island Badminton League. Garrison journeyed to Saanichton and were successful in winning the match and adding their first points to the winning column. The score was 9-7.

North Saanich uncovered strength in great quantities to defeat the Langford Leghorns by such a wide margin. Last year the losers were counted on as one of the strongest of the suburban clubs and were hardly beaten in match play. North Saanich, through its display, will probably be the team to watch in the Third Division. The score was 14-2.

Fairfield lived up to early predictions when they came through in decisive manner to win by a 13-3 score. Fairfield, Willows, Emanuel Baptists and North Saanich remain the undefeated clubs in the Third Division.

Sweeping through the mixed events without losing a match, North Saanich got away to a good start in their fixture with Langford to secure an early lead. They won eight straight before dropping their first women's doubles. However, this left them three out of four in the winning column. The other Langford win came in the men's doubles.

A HARD FIGHT
Fairfield men had a strenuous time with the Graham Pales for awhile, but managed to stave off a rally in the last men's doubles which went to 13-17 before being decided. The winners thus got the edge of three out of four. They continued their winning ways by taking all four women's doubles. In the mixed doubles they were out of a 6-2 count, which gave them a total of thirteen matches to three.

Garrison encountered stiff opposition from the improving Saanichton club, who forced their more experienced opponents to a 9-7 score before going under. The men's doubles were even, both teams getting two out of four. The women's doubles were for the most part very close, and the deciding match went to 12-16 before the home pair won to even the count again. However, in the mixed the winners' edge came out and they won five out of eight matches.

Wolves Menace
Times Explorers
Near Objective

Capt. Kleinschmidt and Party Brave Dangers of Lonesome Arctic as They Line Up for Dash to Home of Santa Claus; Wireless Message Brings Reassuring News.

The Victoria Times awaited last night for a message from the daring explorers on their long trek to discover the home of Santa Claus.

As the last wireless message sent by him from the most northern Eskimo village stated that he was going to use his portable short-wave transmission set, The Times broadcasted to all amateurs to send any messages they could pick up immediately to this paper, for the interest in The Times expedition is growing to fever heat and the telephone is kept busy answering questions when a day passes without word from the expedition.

No message, however, came through until this one just received before going to press, and sent in by James Clark, an amateur operator from Winnipeg,
Manitoba.

Station F.E.K. Eskimoland.

All short-wave receiving stations
please forward this message from F. E.

Kleinschmidt Santa Expedition to The Times newspaper.

"Unable to transmit message last night. Were surrounded by pack of wolves and had to fight them off all night. Lost two reindeer.
Stopping only two hours to allow reindeer to feed before crossing Wales Strait and get out of this wolf-infested country. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good."
Reindeer chased by wolves, made 200 miles since leaving aeroplane base, had a great fight. Still picking off stragglers. Tell all the children we are pushing north, full speed and all indications denote a successful outcome. All are well, except sleepy and tired."
(Signed) F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT.

This is sensational and at the same time reassuring news. The captain seems to have additional evidence of some kind that the expedition is going to be successful.

Support for the formation of a Trail Riders' Association of Vancouver Island and the creation of riding trails radiating from the Willows Grounds to Mount Tolmie, Cadboro Bay, Arbutus Bay and other nearby points is suggested in a letter from Major K. B. Spur-gin to the city.

Rough trails could be made by scrappers with little cost, beyond the clearing and grubbing of paths which could be followed by horses, apart from motor highways, and yet reach places of interest. Between seven and eight miles of trails could be installed at a cost of approximately $1,000.

One trail suggested would lead along Richmond Avenue towards Mount Tolmie, before branching into a circuit loop along the waterfront in Oak Bay.
A detailed drawing of suggested trails accompanies the letter which will be laid before the City Council at its next meeting.

These series of trails have been laid by private enterprise at Sooke, and have proved of great popularity with tourists and residents alike. It is pointed out. By the creation of a Trail Riders' Association of Vancouver Island, a network of riding trails could be made to cover the Island eventually, it is stated. Municipal action to support an extension of this work is sought.

"Bad Boy" Mayor
Again Nominated

Boston, Nov. 13.—The historic city of Newburyport has again nominated its "bad boy" mayor, Andrew J.
"Bossy" Gillis, for the office.

Gillis carried every ward and received 2,338 votes in the heaviest balloting ever recorded in a municipal primary there.

Dodds said he picked up the cards bearing the inscription on the street.
"That does not excuse you using them," Magistrate George Jay said.
"Oh, I just thought I'd try it for fun," accused replied.

Three Given
Jail Terms

Sentences of thirty days imprisonment were meted out in City Police Court this morning to three old offenders who pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place.

John Morrison was sentenced for the fourteenth time.

James Riley appeared for his thirteenth conviction. He admitted his guilt, but said he had "not touched a drop since last April until the last day or so."

"I saw you drunk myself two days ago," Magistrate George Jay remarked. "Thirty days."

Bert Harvey was charged with his seventh offence. When asked the formal question by the court if he was the same man who was previously convicted he replied:
"I think it was me, yes."

Court Finds

"Through misfortune and strife, I am deaf and dumb for life. While try-

This was the inscription on a card which Joseph Dodds presented at sev-

When Dodds appeared in City Police Court this morning on a charge of vagrancy, it turned out he was neither deaf nor dumb. He pleaded guilty and was remanded till to-morrow for sen-

FAIL TO FIND DROWNED MAN

Police Drag Waters of Sooke Harbor in Search of Missing Chinese

Dragging operations were conducted under Provincial Police supervision at Sooke Harbor to-day for the body of a Chinese man who is believed to have been drowned near Cooper's Cove yesterday afternoon. Up to an early hour this afternoon no success had rewarded the searchers.

Lum, who was employed by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Warren, was thrown into the icy waters of the harbor when a canoe which he was paddling capsized. Mrs. Warren saw the little craft turn over and telephoned for help.

A motorboat in charge of Capt. G. Roberts, a pilot, went to the scene but there was no trace of the canoe's lone occupant.

PILOT MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

Local Committee Asks Pilotage Director to Reconsider Victoria Rates

Asking for a reconsideration of the pilot rates in and out of the port of Victoria and asking that Esquimalt and Victoria be made one port as far as pilotage matters are concerned, the port committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce this morning met Capt. George Robertson, director of pilotage for the Federal Government in private conference.

On account of the comparatively easy task of piloting a vessel into the outer wharves at Victoria compared to that of taking a ship into Vancouver harbor, or any other British Columbia port, the committee thought that the rates should be considerably reduced. Capt. Robertson gave the committee a sympathetic hearing but made no promise. He will return to Victoria next week, when he will have an announcement to make. He left for the mainland on this afternoon's steamer, after being in the city since Saturday.

Colonel A. W. R. Wilby, agent here for the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries, and pilot superintendent at Victoria, Capt. P. J. P. Saunders, pilotage superintendent for the Province, and E. L. Haughton, superintendent of the Dominion wireless station here, were with Capt. Robertson at this morning's meeting.

Capt. Saunders has been examining the four local pilot boats which will be taken over by the Government in the coming year. The four boats, which are the C.G.J., the Association, the Pilot Station No. 1, and a vessel formerly used by the Canadian Pilots, it will be decided next week whether the boats will be used by the Government.

"The new by-laws are now in effect," stated Capt. Robertson, following this morning's meeting, "and we are anxious to give them a trial before making any alterations."

LARGE PLANS REVIEWED BY GRANT HALL

Vice-president of Canadian Pacific Sees Large Winter Travel to Victoria

Is Gratified By Citizens' Appreciation of Railway's Development Plans

"The enthusiasm with which citizens of Victoria support efforts of the Canadian Pacific Railway to develop the city and Vancouver Island as Canada's winter playground is gratifying," said Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on his arrival yesterday from Montreal on a seasonal inspection trip.

Mr. Hall is accompanied by D. C. Coleman, vice-president of western lines, Winnipeg; George W. Allan, K.C., and G. Montagu Black of Winnipeg, and G. L. Bourne, prominent New York manufacturer, and will remain in Victoria until to-morrow night.

In view of the Yuletide and Sea Song Festivals and the second annual Empress midwinter golf tournament, to be staged in Victoria during the present winter season, Victoria and its surroundings are reeling now wide publicity as a Canadian resort which enjoys a most pleasant winter climate, Mr. Hall pointed out.

ONE OF THE FINEST

Coupled with a continent-wide publicity drive which the Canadian Pacific has under way to attract winter tourists to Victoria and the Island, Mr. Hall continued, the company has again demonstrated its faith in the attractions of Vancouver Island by its extensive improvements to the Empress Hotel, including the new wing with its 200 up-to-date rooms, the beautiful new ballroom and conservatory.

Mr. Hall expressed himself as highly pleased with the new Empress which he classed with the company's finest hotels.

NEW HAWAIIAN SERVICE

Development of shipping between Canada and the Orient finds the Canadian Pacific with another new Superliner building on the Clyde for service between Vancouver and Victoria and the Far East, the vice-president stated. This new ship, the Empress of Japan, will be 35,000 tons gross, and with a speed of twenty-four knots will be faster and larger even than the present flagship, Empress of Canada, recently returned to Pacific waters with a set of new engines.

The entry of the Pacific's fastest and most palatial ships into the traffic to Honolulu, he pointed out, will not mean less of the Canadian Pacific's supremacy on the trans-Pacific run. Under the new arrangement the white Empresses will run in as providing the fastest service to and from the Orient.

MacDonald Ministry's Majorities on Widows' Pension Bill 100 to 150

London, Nov. 13.—The House of Commons adjourned at 8.30 a.m. to-day after a seventeen and one-half hour session, the first all-night meeting of the House since the new Labor Government came into being.

The occasion of the session was consideration of details of the pension bill for widows and orphans, which the opposition fought clause by clause, until Lady Cynthia Mosley, wearing a vivid crimson costume, was prominent in every division.

Mr. MacDonald himself arrived at 7.45, and participated in the final division. Afterward a compromise was reached. Mr. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, for the Conservatives, promised the Government to aid in getting the bill through by stages before next Tuesday. Ernest Brown, for the Liberals, agreed and with Right Hon. Arthur Greenwood, Minister of Health, acting for the Government, an adjournment was taken.

WORD AWAITED FROM NORTH FLYING PARTY

Planes With McAlpine Men Believed at Fort Resolution To-day

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Expecting a message from the Northland at any hour to-day, officials here directing the rescue of Colonel C. D. H. McAlpine and his seven companion fliers, believed the party to be nearing Fort Resolution, on the southern shore of Great Slave Lake. Four planes carrying the McAlpine men and their rescuers, were to have left Burnside River and Bathurst Inlet yesterday, but except for a brief report from Captain G. S. Blanchet, stating that intention, further news is lacking.

It was believed here that Blanchet's four machines made the 400-mile hop from Burnside to Fort Resolution, on McLeod Bay, at the northeast end of Great Slave Lake, yesterday. There is no radio post at Bathurst. To-day they would have left Bathurst for Fort Resolution, where Blanchet is expected to finish work to W. L. Brintnell of the Western Canada Airways here of the party's arrival after their long journey of 200 miles from Bathurst.

DAYS ARE SHORT

There was little chance in the first place that the patrol would attempt to cover the full distance between Burnside and Resolution in one day. Mr. Brintnell said. Short days, with daylight lasting only about six or seven hours, allows for only brief dashes through the air. Night flying is quite impossible.

On arrival at Resolution, Blanchet will order orders as to what course to pursue in bringing McAlpine and his party to civilization after their long sojourn in the Arctic region. From Resolution, however they will probably fly to Chipewyan, thence to St. Mary's, Cranberry Portage, and the Pas, traveling from the latter point by train to Winnipeg.

"CROWN JEWELS" IN VANCOUVER GLASS

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—The lure of the famous Russian crown jewels cost Jacob Appel, Vancouver, $1,100, according to his story to the police.

Appel said he met two strangers who claimed to have in their possession a portion of the jewels, and he was persuaded by them to buy some for $1,100.

Following the purchase he took the "jewels" to a jeweler to have them appraised and discovered they were glass, he said.

This sauce deserves its fame

by Mary Blake

I have given my recipe for white sauce to many women. They always tell me it's the best sauce they have ever tasted, so I don't feel that I am boasting unduly when I praise it to you. I claim to credit myself for its deliciousness. I know quite well that its smooth, rich creaminess is due largely to the milk used.

Unless the milk used in a white sauce is pure and sweet and rich in cream, you'll get an indifferent result. But if you have creamy whole milk of the highest quality, pure and sweet, you can count on a delicious sauce. And that is exactly what you have in Carnation Milk. It is simply the best of whole milk from selected herds, with nothing added and nothing taken out except part of the water.

Being evaporated to double richness, it makes the creamiest of sauces, without the extravagant use of butter. Being "homogenized"—which means that the double cream content is broken up into minute particles—it gives a wonderfully fine, smooth texture. And this same rich creaminess and velvety-smooth texture are found in every dish in which Carnation Milk is used.

Because of its uniformity, dependability, convenience and real economy, you will prefer it for all cooking. Send for free Carnation Cook Book. Address: Carnation Milk Products Co., Ltd., 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Cream Sauce

(For vegetables)
1½ tsp. butter, 1½ tsp. flour, ¼ cup salt, few grains pepper, ¼ cup Carnation Milk, ½ cup water. Melt butter in top portion of double boiler; add flour and seasonings; mix thoroughly. Add Carnation milk with water; stir constantly until smooth and thick; place over hot water and continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Carnation Cheese Sauce

(For vegetables or fish)
Add ¼ cup grated cheese to 1 cup Carnation Cream Sauce and stir until melted. Serve hot.

Carnation Egg Sauce

(For vegetables or fish)
Add 1 chopped hard cooked egg, 1 tsp. chopped parsley, and ¼ tsp. celery salt to 1 cup Carnation Cream Sauce. Serve hot.

Carnation Spinach au Gratin

3 tsp. butter, 3 tsp. flour, ¼ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, ¼ cup Carnation Milk, 1 can spinach (No. 2), ¼ cup spinach liquid, ¼ cup grated cheese, ½ cup dried bread crumbs stirred in 2 tsp. melted butter. Melt the 3 tsp. butter, add flour and seasonings and mix thoroughly; add Carnation milk and liquid drained from can of spinach. Stir constantly until smooth and thick. Add grated cheese, when melted add spinach, but mixture into casserole, cover with buttered bread crumbs; brown in oven 10 minutes. Serves 5.

Smother, Creamier Sauces

Even the best of bottled milk cannot equal Carnation Milk in cooking results. Velvety smoothness, rich creaminess, fragile texture, delicacy—these are some of the qualities which Carnation Milk gives to foods. Try it! (See recipes above)

SPEAKER TELLS OF ST. ANDREW

Burns Club Hears Talk on Scotland's Patron Saint By Dr. A. O. Macrae

Scotland's patron saint formed the theme of an address by Dr. A. O. Macrae at the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Burns Club in the Amphion Hall, Yates Street, last night.

Dr. Macrae discussed first the identity of St. Andrew. "We learn," he said, "that he was Christ's first convert. He fished on the shores of Lake Galilee and was the one who told Peter to 'come and see the Mesh'."

The caution of the Scot could be noticed wherever the name of Andrew came up, said the speaker. It was Andrew who drew the Lord's attention to the insufficiency of "five loaves and two small fishes."

It was in 1761 that the relics of the Apostle became associated with the devotion of Scotland, Dr. Macrae said. It was shortly after this time that he became recognized as the patron saint of that country.

St. Andrew was also adopted by Russia as the patron saint and prior to the revolution the Russian navy flew St. Andrew's Cross, the speaker pointed out.

John Hoole presided over the gathering, which was attended by about 200 members.

Vocal solos were rendered during the evening by Mrs. P. B. Bowden, and George Bryden, and Mrs. Wilfrid Ord gave an inspiring recitation.

Pipe-Major Donald Cameron, composer of the Lieutenant-Governor's March, played his composition for the first time at the start of the meeting.

SAFETY OF FOOD SHIPS IN WAR NOW DISCUSSED

London, Nov. 13.—The London press is discussing the suggestion in President Hoover's Armistice Day speech that the safety of food ships in wartime be guaranteed to all nations.

The best part of the speech, the London Times said, was that expressing his conviction the world was becoming more genuinely inclined toward peace.

"Certainly," the paper commented, "the onus for the naval conference in January are becoming more favorable and an atmosphere has been created wherein the conference will have every chance for success."

On the food ships proposal the paper said:

"The suggestion, coming from such a quarter, is sure to receive most prolonged consideration. The arguments he brings forward to support it are a most important contribution to the problem."

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative organ, described the food ships proposal as revolutionary, adding:

"It is less simple than it sounds. That is not to say it is impracticable. The paper remarked that some food-stuffs, for instance fats, were important in the manufacture of munitions."

The Daily News, Liberal, warmly endorsed the President's "practicable, vigorous initiative in implementing the Kellogg-Brand pact."

While holding the food ships suggestion must receive the attention of the civilized world, it doubted very much whether all attempts to humanize war are anything but a pitiful illusion."

C. L. Harrison To Speak on Island Park on Thursday

The proposal to establish a national park on Vancouver Island, and the advantages of national parks throughout the Dominion, will form the subject of an illustrated public lecture, to be given by Claude L. Harrison, in the Cathedral Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Colored lantern slides will show picturesque scenes in the most famous of Canada's parks, beauty spots in the "Forbidden Plateau," beyond Courtenay, and glimpses of the Pacific Ocean from the West Coast of Vancouver Island, north of Jordan River.

Reasons in favor of a national park at low altitude being set apart on the West Coast, which would make it the only park in Canada from which the Pacific Ocean is visible, will be explained by the lecturer.

Mr. Harrison has also some splendid slides illustrating the new Prince Albert Park in Saskatchewan, as well as the Yoho, Glacier and Watkins parks. He will point out the advantages to the country of these parks, their educational value, and other benefits bestowed through them.

This public lecture to-morrow evening has been arranged as part of an educational programme planned for the season by the Cathedral Men's Guild. A collection will be received for expenses, and for the support of other educational work at the Memorial Hall, which the Men's Guild helps to maintain.

Mr. Harrison will be introduced by Mr. Hartman to the assembly, gathered in the legislative chamber. Mr. Hartman referred to the Premier as a man who had done more for agriculture than any other man in Canada. He was British Columbia's most distinguished son, the speaker declared.

Pleasure in welcoming such a party to the Province was expressed by the Premier, who added that he wished their stay could have been longer in order that they might derive some real advantage from the visit.

Without regard for the international boundary, the Pacific Coast was destined to see great things owing to its geographic position, he added, congratulating the party on choosing the cause for their convention.

Mr. Atkinson, who was introduced by the Premier, recalled that his own father in Ontario had been a member of the Grange. Although this particular group had not flourished in Canada, there were several co-operative organizations working for the good of the farmers in this country, he said.

B.C.'S POSSIBILITIES

The minister outlined the tremendous possibilities existing in the culture in British Columbia. There was plenty of land open to settlement from both the United States and Canada. And the "last great west," the Peace River area, would support 100,000 people in an industrial way.

After sightseeing in the city, the Grange party left on the 4:30 o'clock steamer for Seattle.

Chief of Police John Fry had told the court of a raid made on October 19 on premises on Government Street alleged to be occupied by Chun Gai, how a strong door had been battered down and six inmates discovered. Five were fully dressed, but the accused had been undressed. He had been seen to get off a bed, go to a stovepipe wherein opium was later found; go to a wood basket where the police found a key fitting the entry door, and admitted ownership of a coat which had opium in its pockets.

Mr. Moresby argued that all these circumstances were of no avail if offset by a reasonable statement by the accused in explanation of his presence. Such a statement was advanced, he submitted, by the admission of Chun Gai that he was present in the room to enjoy opium smoking.

Magistrate Jay deferred judgment until next Monday.

Denouncing evidence presented to Magistrate Jay in support of a police court charge against Chun Gai of being in possession of opium, as "nothing more than surmise, inference and conjecture," W. C. Moresby, K.C., yesterday sought release of the accused Chinaman.

GRANGE PARTY ON BRIEF VISIT

Group From East Stop in City During Trip to Seattle Convention

En route from the east to Seattle, where they will attend the Grange convention, a party of 250 farmers with their wives and children reached Victoria yesterday and paid official visits to the Parliament Buildings and Government House before proceeding on their way.

The group was in charge of Hon. J. P. Hartman, of Seattle, and included delegates from Minneapolis and points further east. Louis J. Taber, national master and head of all granges in the United States, and Leslie R. Smith, of Boston, the national secretary, were members of the party.

Premier Tolmie and Hon. W. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, welcomed the visitors at the Parliament Buildings, after which a number visited Government House, where they were presented to Lieutenant-Governor Bruce and Miss Mackenzie.

Premier Tolmie was introduced by Mr. Hartman to the assembly, gathered in the legislative chamber. Mr. Hartman referred to the Premier as a man who had done more for agriculture than any other man in Canada. He was British Columbia's most distinguished son, the speaker declared.

How One Woman Lost 28 lbs. of Fat

This headline is exactly true and means just what it says. Read her own letter. "I take a daily dose of Kruschen and I have lost two inches round the waist and hips and 28 lbs. since last summer. I feel very well on it, and people tell me I look very fit. I am 5 ft. 4 ins. in height, 40 years old, and come of a stout family."

Dear Editor:— This story proves there is a Santa. Once there lived a boy 6 1/2 years old that had no home or parents. He made his living by selling papers on the streets of Liverpool. He slept where ever he could find shelter. He had heard about Santa so he made up his mind to tell Santa his wish. Later a man lost his dog, he went to his barn to look for it, he heard a weak voice praying, please Santa send me a father and mother to love me. I don't want no more. The man went and told his wife, when they returned they found him asleep, they carried him home. When he woke up it was Christmas morn. and Santa had sent him a father and mother that always loved him, he grew up a good man, and a credit to his foster-parents.

BECAUSE HIS WHISKERS TICKLED JIM'S FACE
Dear Santa Claus Editor.

I know there is a real Santa Claus because on Xmas Eve I felt his whiskers tickle my face and woke me up and I know there is no bull to it for I no he has the little browsies to make the tops for him in his big snow house, and he has a little bird to listen all the year around to see if we are good boys and girls. Do you think Santa Claus will mind me telling you about him tickling my face with his whiskers.

Dear Sir
I know there is a Santa Claus because on one Xmas. We heard a noise Mother got up to see what it was. We thought it was the cat stealing the turkey. But when she went into the pantry she saw no sign of the cat so it had must been Santa because we found some toys on our bed, and next morning we found more good by from.

THE VERY DOLL OLIVIA ASKED FOR

Dear Editor
I know their must be a Santa because I have seen him at Spencers & Hudson Bay stores. And he always brings me lots of toys every year.

And on Xmas morning our stockings our all full. One Xmas long time ago Spencers Santa gave a nice little tea-party for all the little girls & there coils and I had little doll so I ask Santa for a nice big doll and he gave me the every one I pick out in his toy land. If Dorothy Bell could grow she would almost be as big as me now.

I wish Santa would make dolls that could grow & talk.

Sure there is!
Dear Editor.
Who said there was no Santa Claus? If they lived at our house they would soon know if there was or not. One Christmas I asked Santa for a train and on Xmas morning when I awoke I found a whole heap of other things beneath the Christmas tree. Santa sure is good to the good girls and boys!

Anyways, how could you have his picture in the paper every day if there was no real Santa? I bet they couldn't answer that properly! So these are my reasons for believing in Santa Claus.

SANTA PLAYED A JOKE ON MILDRED
Dear Editor

I love to read the nice children's letters in your paper. About Santa I believe there is a Santa Claus because I see him in town every dec. 24th He fills my stockings every Christmas Eve. I am going to see him this Christmas too I find lots of nuts and oranges and at the very bottom of my stocking I find some silver money. Once I found a piece of coal wrapped up, but I think he made a mistake that time. I am 8 and a 1/2 years old and I am in grade 4 at school and if I win the $25 I am going to buy a bike. I love Christmas and Santa too. It is only a few weeks to wait for Christmas, and I am so happy. And I expect you are too.

I know there is a Santa Claus because one Xmas eve I thought I heard his sleigh bells, and mummy always takes me down to Spencers and Hudson Bay to see him when he comes to Victoria. He shakes hands with me, and I tell him what to bring me at Christmas. Last Xmas I asked him for a fire engine and on Xmas morning when I awoke I found not only the things I wanted but a lot of other toys. Who could have brought all these things but Santa Claus?

THE TREE WASN'T BIG ENOUGH
Dear Editor:

I know there is a Santa, because he brings all my toys and presents. He is going to see me this Christmas, and I am going to see him. He comes down the chimney when I am asleep in bed.

He is now getting ready for my letter, to come and I will tell him what I want him to bring me. My mother told me that there is a Santa Claus and she heard him last Christmas coming down the chimney, with all his presents. I knew he had been because he had made some dirt over the floor. When he had come he had left me some very nice presents on the Christmas tree we had but, it was 'not big enough for all the presents.

Welfare of District Discussed at Farmers' Institute Meeting

Luxton, Nov. 13.—A directors' meeting of the Metchosin Farmers Institute was held Thursday evening at Luxton. Many items affecting the welfare of the district were discussed, among which were the betterment of drainage of flood waters in the Luxton and Happy Valley area, the dangerous rock cut and double curve on the Albert Head Road, together with the dangerous Canadian National Railway level crossing on the Island Highway. These improvements have continuously been drawn to the attention of the Public Works Department in years past and the directors affirm their intention of using their efforts to have these dangerous conditions removed. The directors were gratified to note that the dangerous curves on Smart's Hill on the Rocky Point road, which they have continually been endeavoring to have rectified, have been partly removed and plans have been outlined by the Public Works Department which will remove them entirely.

COLWOOD CROSSING
 It is noted that no relief whatever has been received in the matter of the level crossing near Colwood. This matter has been up continuously for more than three years with various institutes and the Automobile Club of Vancouver Island and so far has received no attention. All the associations mentioned, however, will persevere until these dangerous conditions have been eliminated.

WANT RATES CUT
 The chairman of the meeting drew to the attention of the directors that reduced freight and rates for passengers and exhibits intended for the annual British Columbia Winter Fair and Provincial Seed and Potato Show had been granted to every point in British Columbia excepting Vancouver Island. The reason of this discrimination has not as yet been explained. The officials concerned, however, state this will be rectified.
 The annual meeting of the Metchosin Farmers Institute will be held on Dec. 9 in the Metchosin Hall and a board of directors for the coming year will be elected.
 The Luxton Hall committee will hold a dance Friday evening, Nov. 15, in Luxton Hall. Pitt's orchestra, featuring piano accordion, will supply the music. Refreshments will be served. Dancing will be from 9 to 1.

 The Misses Esther and Catherine Hutchinson were week-end visitors in Victoria.
 Mrs. Jack Betts has been staying in Victoria, the guest of her sister.
 The regular monthly meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. John Trace, Sooke road, Mrs. D. Welch, president, was in the chair. Eleven members were present, also one visitor.
 The bills presented by the secretary for the recent Halloween party were ordered to be paid.
 Mrs. John Trace gave an interesting talk on her recent trip to California, which was much appreciated by the members.

CITY COUNCIL MAKES UP MIND ON SALARY PLAN

Increase to Apply to Three Departments of Outside Workers on Daily Hire

Council Votes $1,000 For Blind, Tables Sign By-law and Regards Its Debt

The City Council tackled a wandering course through contrary winds last night, to end two hours and fifteen minutes after the start, with little headway made.

One hour was spent in a discussion of what council members had intended by a salary increase resolution for outside staffs two weeks ago. Finally this was settled, and an increase of 25 cents a day will apply to city outside employees in the parks, works and waterworks departments who are on a daily wage. The increase will be effective on December 1.

In general business the Council considered a light agenda. The sum of $14,500 in sinking funds was ordered invested through A. E. Ames & Company and the Royal Financial Corporation, at yields between 5.16 and 5.20 per cent for miscellaneous debentures.

GRANT FOR BLIND
 The Council voted unanimously to grant $1,000 towards the fund for the Blind. H. C. Lane, an employee of the parks department, will retire on superannuation at December 31, at his own request.

The Council ordered the passing of the Dallas Hotel building as unsafe, on the recommendation of the industrial committee. Tenders for discarded city fire stores were received from the Victoria Junk Agency and the Northern Junk Company, and will be analyzed before a bid is accepted.

Alderman John Harvey was appointed City representative on the Memorial Avenue Committee.

The sign by-law was given a further hoist of six days. The special by-law to name a specific route for the Blue Line stages to Oak Bay was reported as nearing completion, and will be introduced at the next meeting.

COMMISSIONER RESIGNS
 J. H. Doughty-Davies, former city zoning engineer, and lately a member of the City Zoning Board, tendered his resignation from the board. He had accepted employment under the Town Planning Commission of Calgary, wrote Mr. Davies, who will be thanked for his services here. The choice of his successor on the board was left open.

Tenders will be called for the disposal of city garbage in 1930, pending preparations of a further report on a plan that may eliminate towing to sea, it was stated.

LIBRARY DISPUTE
 The City Library Commission asked the Council to appoint Mayor Herbert Ascham to negotiate with Reeve William Crouch over the $1,525 bill the commission says is owing to the Library by Saanich. Under existing legislation the mayor and reeve of the two municipalities can act as arbitrators, and if no settlement is reached an appeal would follow to the Supreme Court.

Uncertain about the method of negotiation, the Council voted to have legal advice before instituting the plan suggested. Alderman William Marchant said Saanich was still shut off from library service, following the disagreement, which was one of long standing.

HEAVY DEBT COSTS
 Mr. Marchant was reversed by the Council on two motions. One was for instructions to the City Treasurer for the preparation of statistical data on the city's debt. Of record in 1924 the sum of $10,299,558 in borrowed money was being repaid by the city with interest charges alone amounting to $15,957,899, exclusive of capital retirement, said Mr. Marchant. The data was already on hand in the annual reports, he was told by dissenting conferees.

An historical survey of the work of the City Councils of Victoria since the incorporation of the city in 1882 was then suggested by Mr. Marchant, who stressed the value of the preservation of historical data relative to the growth of city business and the creation of its various departments. This, too, was on hand by way of the record of the minutes of council meetings, the council ruled, rejecting both motions.

After twice returning to the question of salary increases to members of the outside staff, the Council settled the wording of its resolution of two weeks ago by the definition outlined above. At 10.15 p.m. the Council completed an agenda of twelve items and adjourned.

Royal Oak

The first fall dance given by the institute was held on Friday in Royal Oak Hall, with a large attendance. The Melodian orchestra supplied music. Conveners were Mrs. Reed and Miss K. Griffen and Percy Reeves was master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thorpe and Miss Oldfield and Armistice poppies were sold during the evening.

Mrs. Reed and Miss Griffen represented the Royal Oak Women's Institute in the sale of poppies on Saturday in the city.

How to Be a Successful
Husband

Dorothy Dix

Shows
How to Keep
Wife's Love

Any Man Can Make a Success of Marriage by Giving His Wife a Square Deal in Money, Affection and Good Times, and by Never, Never Taking Her for Granted, Declares Dorothy Dix

I HAVE a letter from a young man who says: "I am about to be married, and while I do not aspire to be the ideal husband, I do want to be a tolerably good one. So will you list these faults and shortcomings into which husbands ordinarily fall in order that I may avoid them?"

Glory be, that there is at least one prospective bridegroom who realizes that a man's success in marriage, like his success in business, depends upon the intelligence he brings to bear upon its problems, and whether he puts his back and his heart into it, instead of relying just upon bull luck.

And thanks be that there is one young man with sense enough to perceive that the way to be happy though married is to keep his wife so much in love with him that she will always be on her tiptoes trying to please him. For the reason there are so many peevish, fretful, complaining wives, who are bad cooks and poor managers, is because so many women are so disappointed and disillusioned in marriage that they don't care whether they keep their jobs or lose them.

Of course, practically every man who gets married is in love with the woman he marries. But he would not burden himself with the expense of a family. Also, practically every man goes into matrimony with the desire to make the woman he marries happy and when he fails he is amazed and bewildered and doesn't know how come. He has fed her and clothed her and she has the felicity of being married to him. What more could any sane woman desire?

So if you would avoid the mistakes of these dumb brothers, begin first by giving your wife a square deal. Don't treat her as a doll to dress up, or a plaything to amuse yourself with in your idle hours, or a drudge to do your cooking and cleaning, but as a partner who has put everything she is and has into the matrimonial firm just as you have.

Talk over your business with her. Let her have her part in helping on with your plans and ambitions. Make her realize that your success or failure depends just as much upon her efforts as it does upon yours. Hold her responsible for her part of the work. Make her realize from the first that you are going ahead and that if she doesn't keep up with you she will be left behind. Nine times out of ten when a wife fails to be a helpmate and a companion to her husband it is because he didn't take the trouble to develop her into being one.

Give your wife a square deal about money. Don't humiliate her by making her come to you like a beggar for the money she has earned by her own labor. Give her a definite allowance for the house and for her own personal needs, and don't ask her what she did with it any more than you would ask your partner what he did with his money.

Don't cut out the love-making just because you are married. Don't think that a woman can live for thirty or forty years on the sweet talk you gave her when you were courting her. It gets stale and worn-out with doubts and molder with suspicions, and she wants something fresh and hot that was baked this morning, on which to stay her hungry heart.

Make it an ironbound rule that you never break to tell your wife every day that in every way you love her better and better. Give her a kiss that has some real feeling in it instead of its being the cold and insulting puff of duty. Notice what she has on. Compliment the way she does her hair. And she will never find out, no matter how poor and hard-worked she is, that matrimony isn't a glorious adventure and you, a Fairy Prince.

Show your wife some appreciation. Most men make the mistake of taking their wives for granted and assuming that their wives are mind-readers who know how they feel about things. They never mention the state of their affections from the altar to the grave, but they think their wives should know they still love them.

They never throw their wives a compliment for their thrift or good management, but they think their wives should know that they realize what helps them—they have been. Unless the ghosts of dead wives can come back and read the epitaphs their husbands have carved on their tombstones, most wives never know what their husbands think of them.

That is why there are so many discouraged wives who go along doing their duty in marriage just because it is their duty and without getting any joy out of it. That is why so many wives ask themselves what's the use of working themselves to death for a man who never notices what they do, anyway, and so get slack and extravagant and quit trying to please the husbands who growl over a bad dinner and never praise a good one.

For it is hard to do things for those who do not appreciate them and easy to do things for those who do appreciate them. So, if you want to keep your wife thinking matrimony is worth while, jolly her along. Consider how little energy and pep you would put into your own work if all that you ever got for it was a bawling out.

Remember that your wife was a human being before she was a wife, and that she has the same feelings and desires as you have. A lot of men make the mistake of thinking that when a woman gets married she is changed by some magic fairy on her wedding day into a combination gas range and vacuum cleaner and that she has no other interest in life except functioning as such.

They think that a wife needs no other amusement besides cooking and baby-tending, and that she never wants to go out of the house or to have pretty clothes, and she prefers being treated as a drudge to being treated as a Lady Love.

Don't make this fatal mistake. Do something active to make your wife happy and give her variety and change. Buy her as many pretty clothes as you can afford. Take her out to places of amusement. Give her something new to think about. Thus shall you keep her happy and contented and prevent her becoming a nagger and whiner.

Follow these rules, son, for being a good husband and your wife will spend her days blessing Heaven because she drew a capital prize in the matrimonial lottery.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

Many mothers who realize that liver is a valuable food are in a quandary as to the best method of cooking it for small children.

Children as young as two years of age may be given properly cooked liver, but the dish as it appears on the average family table is not suitable for the child of pre-school age.

Fresh calf, beef and chicken liver may be used. The liver of the Sunday chicken will be more than enough to supply the day's allowance of meat for a three-year-old child.

When liver is first introduced into the two-year-old's diet, not more than one teaspoonful should be given. This can be gradually increased until one tablespoonful is allowed for a meal. Three times a week is often enough to serve liver to the average child or adult.

It is best to boil liver for small children. After this first cooking, it is finely chopped or mashed and seasoned for serving in various ways.

Wipe one small slice of liver with a damp cloth. Cover with boiling water and simmer gently until tender. It will take about fifteen minutes for calf or chicken liver and twenty to twenty-five minutes for beef liver. Drain and remove all coarse parts and membranes. Run through the fine knife of the food chopper or mash with a fork. When smooth and of a paste-like consistency, add a few grains of salt. This paste can be spread on strips of crisp toast or dry bread and used in place of grated, hard-cooked egg yolk or beef juice at noon for two-year-old children. As they grow older, and grated raw vegetables are added to their list of foods, the liver paste can be combined with grated raw carrots, celery, onion, cabbage or lettuce and used as a sandwich filling with whole wheat bread.

The liver paste also can be added to soup or any hot mashed vegetable the child is allowed to eat.

Children four years old will like a tiny patty made by shaping the paste in a flat cake and pan-broiling it in a hot, ungreased frying pan. Baked potatoes can be removed from the shells, mashed and seasoned. Line the shell with a little prepared potato, add a spoonful of liver paste and pile remaining potato lightly over liver. Return to oven long enough to heat thoroughly and serve with mashed cooked carrot, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, baked apple.

Sooke

The Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute held their monthly meeting on Friday in Sooke hall, with a fair attendance. Mrs. E. Arcman, president, reported on the convention in Victoria. Mrs. K. Cairns, secretary, reported on the Halloween dance, which was a great success.

After the meeting a plant, bulb and home cooking sale took place, followed by a silver tea, the proceeds being devoted to the travelers' aid of the Y.W.C.A. All the items were readily sold, and the members of the institute much appreciate the kindness of the generous donors of the articles sold and used at the tea. Mrs. G. H. Jones acted as convener.

The annual meeting of the Holy Trinity branch of the women's auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Thorne on Sooke Road, to-day.

Benevolent aspects rule to-day, according to astrology, which reads in the stars promise of kindly ways for owners on the planet Earth. This should be an auspicious way for success, since a prosperous outlook among those who conduct retail business is foretold. Christmas buying will be conducted on an extravagant scale, it is foretold, but it may be rather slow in starting. It is pre-eminently a time auspicious to merchants and manufacturers, who should find trade exceedingly good. Early hours of this day should be the most auspicious for all important transactions. The evening brings into power a slightly adverse aspect. Again there is a way read as disturbing to certain owners and operators of oil fields, astrologers note. New discoveries will be important in the spring when many problems of distribution are forecast. Women to-day should devote themselves to home affairs and to personal interests. It is announced—Dress is subject to a good rule that promotes success in shopping. Benefactions of great value are indicated for schools and colleges next year, which is to mark the beginning of changes in education. Medical studies to education will be apparent in certain phases. It is foretold, and girls' institutions will prosper exceedingly.

Return to feminine standards of dress and manners will be widely evident, the seers prophesy, and manners will conform to the trend toward past customs. The annual eclipse of the Sun, November 1, is declared to have an effect on Italy and Muscovy that will be of world interest. Mars is in a place read as indicating warlike influences in the Balkans, where new problems will arise. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a profitable year in which pleasure will accrue from many sources. Children born on this day probably will be able to succeed in whatever vocation they undertake. Many artistic persons born to this sign. John E. McCullough, famous actor, was born on this day, 1837. It was also the birthday of Paul von Fierbach, noted German jurist, 1770. (Copyright, 1929)

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14-December 11, January 23, March 28, April 17.

AT THE THEATRES

MORAN AND MACK IN SCREEN DEBUT AT DOMINION

Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, made their picture debut at Dominion Theatre audiences to-day in "Why Bring That Up?" named, no doubt after that famous expression of languidness of theirs.

Besides giving the audience a chance to find out just which was Moran and who was Mack, who by the way, are called by their right names in the picture, they presented a delightful bit of entertainment.

Octavius Roy Cohen, the author of "Why Bring That Up?" is said to have written the story loosely about the actual lives of Moran and Mack. Whether he did or not, the picture has a consistent plot, which is so often lacking in first vehicles of popular stage stars.

Moran and Mack team up, start their famous "Two Black Crows" routine and start on the road to success. A girl, Evelyn Brent, comes in and separates Moran from some of his earnings, and splits up, or rather threatens to, this team who are so devoted to each other. But events transpire to the contrary.

POWERFUL CAST FOR "RED MARK" ON COLUMBIA SCREEN

James Cruze assembled a powerful cast for "The Red Mark," his new picture for Pathé now showing at the Columbia Theatre. The players include Nena Quartaro, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Rose Dione, Luke Cosgrave, Jack Roper, Eugene Pallette, and Charles Darrow.

The photograph of "Broadway Fever," the Tiffany-Stahl production starring Sally O'Neill now at the Playhouse Theatre, deserves special mention for the camera for this picture was handled by no less a person than John W. Boyle, who is president of the American Society of Cinematographers.

Boyle has had one of the most interesting careers to be found on the technical side of pictures and is one of the most popular presidents the society has ever had. He is, in addition, as Irish as Sally O'Neill and there is no joke too much trouble for these two free-living jokers to put over on each other or on some innocent bystander.

On the same programme is the great British picture, "Blighty."

WARNER BAXTER AS "BAD MAN" IN CAPITOL FILM

Warner Baxter, whose outstanding performance as "The Cisco Kid" in "In Old Arizona," first all-outdoor Fox production, won him world-wide acclaim and a long term contract with Fox Movietone, just can not behave himself on the screen.

As "The Cisco Kid" he was a bold, bad but romantic bandit, a sort of Robin Hood of the Arizona frontier, who used his six-shooter freely but always judiciously, never killing anyone who really didn't deserve it.

As Jack Winfield, in "Thru Different Eyes," an all-dialogue Fox Movietone melodrama now at the Capitol last time to-day, he betrays his best friend and attempts to elope with his wife, only to meet a most swift justice. He is an entirely different sort of a "bad man" in his new production, but needless to say he is a good one, so far as the portrayal is concerned.

"Wee Georgie" Wood Speaks Before B.C. Dramatic School

From time to time the students and members of the B.C. Dramatic School are given the privilege of listening to addresses by the leading lights of the theatrical world. Many celebrities have spoken from its stage but none has found a more responsive and appreciative audience, nor has given more genuine insight into the technicalities of acting, or as he termed it, "tricks of the trade," than George Wood, of the Birmingham Pantomime Company, who spoke yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Wood entitled his address "The Joy of Disappointment," as applied to dramatic work.

"The moment one begins to be perfection of a part, it is time to stop playing it, for one then begins not to live the part, but to act it. For acting is distinct from living, and an actor's character becomes heavy," said the speaker.

In his own particular work Mr. Wood explained that his artistry must consist in portraying the soul of a child with the brain of an adult. With inimitable examples to illustrate his points, the speaker dealt with technicalities of acting, the importance of timing, and of making words ring true; the difficulty of controlling the hands, which "if fitted to the thought, and then forgotten, will assuredly take care of themselves"; the importance of being audible at the outset, and then when the audience become familiar with the voice, to assume a more comfortable pitch; the trouble with consonants, and the "evident fear of being thought Scottish if one uses the letter r," were amusingly and tellingly dealt with.

Dramatic training, if it deals with the technique rather than with "eloquence" was of immense value whether it dealt with the stage or not, he noted. "In holding the mirror up to Nature, it teaches the true philosophy, balance, poise and diction, all essential to those who desire to be not only of service to others but contented as only the truly philosophical can be. Nothing offers this quite so well as the study of the drama, which makes it possible for one to be a success while doing the things that one may not want to do."

A short poem, "Earthenware," written expressly for Mr. Wood, by two celebrated English song-writers of musical comedy, concluded the address.

"TOBY" LEITCH AND COMPANY IN COMEDY PLAY AT COLISEUM

"Verdun" a picture of the great war and "Be Yourself," a comedy farce on the stage by the Coliseum Players under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch make up the Coliseum Theatre bill for this week.

Since Monday night this splendid double programme has been well received by capacity houses, and before Saturday it is expected will attract large numbers of people.

"Verdun" is an outstanding picture of the Great War. The great battle of the titanic struggle of 1914-1918 are well portrayed as well as other sidelights.

For the filming of the picture the director borrowed from the French War Department thousands of soldiers, tons of military equipment and other war accessories so that the picture would be most realistic. It is not without its comedy points and the soldiers make plenty of fun for the audiences.

"Be Yourself" is as usual an uproariously funny "Toby" Leitch comedy. The plot is interesting, as well as cleverly funny, and the cast is well chosen, each member of the company giving a fine performance in his or her respective role.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 28, April 17.

FAMOUS PLAY COMING HERE

"Journey's End" Set Whole Nation "By the Ears"

It is indeed rare that a play, irrespective of how well it is written and how well acted, should, figuratively speaking, set an entire nation by its ears and become the common topic of its people. It is even rarer that newspapers should coin a slogan for a play which almost immediately becomes a shibboleth for civilization at large.

And yet one play has created such a furor that it has affected one nation already and should similarly affect the world at large. The drama referred to is called "Journey's End," by R. G. Sherriff, which Gilbert Miller is presenting by arrangement with Maurice Browne, at the Royal Victoria Theatre, November 18, 19 and 20, with a matinee on November 20.

It was thought impossible that ten years after the Great War, a play dealing with the late carnage should have any popular appeal. But from its first presentation, "Journey's End" created such a sensation in staid London that British critics have simply been vying with themselves in an effort to outwrite each other in the matter of superlatives.

"Journey's End" has been called "the play that should end war." This may seem like an impossible task, which it undoubtedly is, but nevertheless, the fact remains that having seen it, few people will leave the theatre with any other conception of modern warfare.

other than that of futility. Mr. Sherriff has been mentioned for the Nobel Peace Award for his remarkable drama, which ranks with H. G. Wells' "Mr. Britling Sees It Through" and Raymond Dorgeles' "Les Croix du Bois," as being among the finest literature that the war has produced.
